Strike Leaders Set Number of Operatives Employed at 600—Unofficial Report From Mill Says 1200—Lowell Textile Council Plans Series of Mass Meetings

The Hamilton mill is today operating about 75 per cent. normal, with about 1200 operatives. This is an unofficial statement from the mill. On the other hand the strike leaders, who base their contention on reports of pickets who were at the mill gates this morning, claim that there are about 600 men and women at work or that the plant is running about 3-5 per cent. normal.

The first of the pickets reached the locality shortly before noon and it was announced that relays would be on duty there continuously throughout the day and evening.

WOULD WIPE OUT WATER DEPARTMENT DEFICIT

Believing that a deficit of $68,887.05 in the city water department should be wiped out immediately, City Auditor Daniel E. Martin has sought the co-operation of the board of public service in an effort to have an order introduced in the city council as a means of obtaining sufficient money to cover the deficit entry that now has been carried on the city books for a number of years.

The auditor proposes that money either be transferred from the water maintenance account, or from 1922 water receipts, for this purpose.

While the total receipts of the water department for this year may be slightly less than in 1921, it is believed they will bulk large enough to care for this deficit and as the auditor feels that it is illegal to continue carrying over this amount of deficit, he seeks to have it cared for at once.

The city auditor is not concerned with the creation of the deficit, but states that it is illegal to allow it to continue. What really has occurred in past years is this. The water department has gone along just living within its revenues, without decorating the outstanding deficit a particle, and Auditor Martin feels that it has continued so long enough.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES

Salem Man Whirled Around Shafting in Peabody Tannery—Another Man Hurt

PEABODY, May 9.—Michael Walsh, 60, of Salem, an employee of the Thayer-Toss tannery on Grove street, this city, died this noon at the Thomas hospital, of injuries sustained when he was caught in some shafting this forenoon, at the tannery, and was whirled around until the machinery could be stopped. His clothing had to be cut away to release him.

Earl Hussey, also of Salem, another employee, was painfully injured when kicked in the head and back by the foot of the unfortunate man as he was whirled about the shafting like a ball.

LABEL AGAINST VESSEL

Petition of Forfeiture of Jewels, Etc., Found on Muskegan Will Be Filed

BOSTON, May 9.—A petition for the forfeiture of jewels and rugs found on the American steamer Muskegan, when she tied up at Charlestown, on her arrival from Theodosia on the Black sea, will be filed in general court soon as an inventory of the contraband goods can be made. Assistant United States Attorney Curtis said today.

He also said that he would file a label against the vessel equal to the value of the jewels. No action, he added, would be taken against Capt. Harry Walsh, as no effort had been made to smuggle the goods ashore.

The value of the jewels, which the captain said he had secured from Bolshevik Russians in trades in which 200 bushels of the ship's store of potatoes had figured, was not known.

TWO GIRLS KIDNAPPED

Taken to Canobie Lake Camp by Four Men, it is Alleged—One Escapes

LAWRENCE, May 9.—The story of the alleged abduction of two local girls by four men in an automobile Sunday afternoon, was made public by the police this noon. The girls were Marion Brander, 16 and Lillian Johnson, 19, and the former is still missing. The latter escaped from a camp at Canobie Lake, N. H., where they were taken by the men, according to the girl's story.

According to the story told the police, the girls were walking along a local street when invited to go for a ride and accepted the invitation although they did not know the men. At Canobie Lake, they were forced into a camp and it is alleged that they were ill-treated there. The Johnson girl managed to get away and went to a nearby camp where she told her story but the campers believing the other girl had also escaped, did not make any effort to go to her assistance.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Judge Enright Rules on Question Having to Do With Living Expenses

Special Officer Fined for Having Watered Milk in His Possession

"If a married woman can live and support two children on $10 a week, it is reasonable to suppose that her husband can get along on $9 a week, providing that he is willing to skimp a little on some things," remarked Judge Thomas J. Enright, in police court this morning in making disposition of a non-support case.

The case, an old one dating back from 1915, was brought up as the result of action started by the wife. Counsel for her husband asked the court if the amount of money his client was paying might be reduced. The husband has been out of work for some time but at the present has a temporary position and expects to

ZONING SYSTEM MEETS WITH APPROVAL

That the zoning system which has been under consideration by the chamber of commerce has found many warm adherents throughout the city is proven by the endorsements received at the chamber headquarters today. To date, most of the endorsements have come from persons concerned in the protection of residential districts, whose neighborhoods have been afflicted by the establishment of business enterprises of various natures, causing enormous depreciations in property value, to say nothing of other causes of irritation, such as disfigurement of an entire residential section.

A case in point was revealed this morning, when a letter was received from a resident in a section of the city formerly regarded as a distinctly residential district. In the last few years, however, a business of considerable proportions has established itself in this locality and, according to the complaint, people are kept awake during summer nights by the constant clank of machinery. The writer's property is claimed to have depreciated fully 50 cent in value, while a neighbor has been unable to sell his property at any price.

RECORD IN LOCAL SCHOOL CIRCLES

When Miss Kate J. Hayes, teacher of the sixth grade at the Edison grammar school, was forced to remain away from her class yesterday, it was the first time in 38 years that she had not been at her desk on a day in which the school was in session.

More than that, during these 38 years, Miss Hayes has not once been absent, tardy or dismissed, which, it is believed, constitutes a record in local school circles that cannot be approached.

Illness made it imperative yesterday that Miss Hayes remain at her home in Floyd street, but, happily, it is not a serious sickness and she hopes to be back at her work within a day or two. Needless to say, her companion teachers also hope for her speedy return.

Miss Hayes was appointed a teacher in 1879 and now is rounding out 43 years of splendid service to the city.

THE MERRIMACK RIVER QUESTION

River and Harbor Engineers Report Unfavorably on Channel Proposition

Cost of Making River Navigable From Lowell to the Sea is Prohibitive

Once more the project of making the Merrimack river navigable from Lowell to the sea is brought to the attention of those interested in the proposition. The board of engineers for rivers and harbors, a section of the war department permanently located in Washington, has written the Lowell chamber of commerce, as an interested party, saying that a revised report, authorized by the chief of engineers, on the matter of securing a greater depth from Lowell to the sea or in any part of this section of the river, is unfavorable. Lieut. Col. Wilder W. King, of the corps of engineers, who signed the communication requests that anyone interested in the matter who does not receive a copy of the letter, be informed of the unfavorable report by the chamber.

The principal grounds on which the unfavorable report is based are the excessive cost of such an improvement and the impossibility of such commercial use of the river as to justify the expenditure.

The privilege of appeal is included, however. Such appeals must be sent to the board of engineers for rivers and harbors, a permanent body sitting in Washington, D. C., to which all examinations and survey reports of this character are referred. Persons may be heard on appeal either orally or in writing by addressing the board at room 3713, Munitions building, Washington. Such appeals should be mailed in time to be in the possession of the board within four weeks from the date of the communication, or by June 5, although, if an appellant has important data to communicate and has been unable to collect and put it in shape for proper presentation in four weeks, the board should be informed and a request made for an extension of time. If oral hearings are desired dates may be arranged by correspondence.

Any further information needed may be obtained by application at the office of the board, with attention invited to the following regulation as to the manner in which such information may be furnished:

"Interested parties desiring data necessary for preparation of an appeal to the board of engineers for rivers and harbors, it will be given them verbally by the district officer, or, in his absence, by the senior assistant engineer connected with the improvement. They will not be permitted to have access to the report without authority from the chief of engineers."

As the movement created such widespread interest when it was undertaken on previous occasions, it is considered very likely that many such appeals may be forthcoming.

WORKING OUT NEW FORMULA

Conferees Discuss Clause Concerning Restoration of Foreign Property in Russia

Hope to Reach Agreement Which Will Satisfy Belgium and Therefore France

GENOA, May 9. (By the Associated Press).—English and Italian delegates to the economic conference met today with members of the Russian delegation and began working out a new formula concerning the restoration of foreign property in Russia, said an announcement this afternoon, by the French delegation.

The announcement said it was hoped to devise a new clause in the Russian memorandum, which would satisfy Belgium and therefore France, Belgium, although not participating, is being kept in touch with these informal negotiations.

The essence of the new suggestion is the insertion of a clause which would contain the general declaration that property of foreigners would not in any event be turned over to third parties by the Russian government, thus meeting the main Belgian objection to the present document.

The French representatives this afternoon admitted that they were more optimistic than they were two days ago.

British War Veteran at Washington Charges Detectives With Kidnapping Him

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Alexander B. Robertson, British war veteran, arrived here today from Newark, N. J., to carry out his announced purpose of laying before the British embassy his charges of kidnapping against three private detectives. He declares they attempted to force his departure from the country because of his affection for Miss Mary Culbertson, 21-year-old daughter of Senator Culbertson of Texas.

Senator Culbertson, who yesterday maintained a strict silence regarding the affair, may make a statement about it today. Miss Culbertson, as to whose whereabouts there has been some mystery, was understood to be at the home of her parents here.

COAL COMPANY'S STABLE BLOWN UP

PITTSBURGH, May 9.—A stable owned by the Warwick Coal Co., near Fredericktown, Greene county, was blown up early today. One horse was killed and five others badly hurt.

The magnolia of the Fredericktown Coal Co. was broken into during the night and a box of dynamite containing 150 sticks was stolen.

The mines of the Warwick Co. were closed by the coal strike but an effort was to be made today to resume operations. Only four of the 120 miners reported for work.

State policemen with bloodhounds scoured the country in the vicinity of the explosion.

AUTOISTS SUMMONED BEFORE THE SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE

Owners and Drivers of Cars Using Market Street as a Parking Place Are Asked to Explain Their Violations of City Parking Ordinances

Several autoists, who used Market street as a parking place this morning, received court notices, delivered by Traffic Officer John T. Whelan, to report to the superintendent of police to explain why they had violated city parking ordinances. At least a half-dozen summons were served by Officer Whelan, all within the space of ten minutes.

While directing traffic from his regular post, which is at the junction of Prescott and Market streets on Central, Officer Whelan took a look down Market street about 11 o'clock. What he saw caused him to rub his eyes just the least bit. He removed his glasses, polished them and took another peep. Yes, he saw correctly. Right in the spaces marked off by white lines, known as forbidden parking areas, he saw a half dozen cars, glistening in the sun, with their front wheels cozily resting up against the curbing.

Thereupon John strode to the spot, whipped out his pencil and pad and started his task of distributing small yellow slips. Although these were the first slips this officer has given out, his hand shook not a mite as he made carbon copies of the auto number plates.

As he finished each slip he tucked the yellow colored part into a snug place in the steering apparatus, right where the driver couldn't miss it, and put the copy in the little police book. Officer John worked fast until he came across a Ford coupe. With a smile he started "putting the bee" on the coupe. Just as he was tucking one on of the police chief's invitations into the steering wheel an elderly woman dashed up, frustrated, and wanted to know "what was going on."

She was firmly but politely informed that she would have to take a few minutes from her social engagements and call on the police chief to explain why her car was parked in restricted area. She attempted some remonstrance, but the die was cast—the officer had already affixed the yellow tag to her buggy.

THE RECONSTRUCTION OF CENTRAL BRIDGE WILL COST $90,000

Contract Let in 1921 Was in the Sum of $54,740—$61,593.10 Already Paid Out by City, With Bills Outstanding Amounting to Nearly $23,800—Engineers' Estimate on Cost of Repairing Surface Already Laid Means $2500 More.

Back in 1921 the city awarded a contract for the reconstruction of Central bridge to the Engineering Service and Construction Co. of Boston for the sum of $54,740 and already there has been paid out, under the contract and for extra work, $61,593.10. Before the job finally is completed the total cost will approximate $90,000.

Radiographs

WIRELESS FOR POLICE STATION

Acting Supt. MacBrayne Says He Will Look Into Matter Thoroughly

If Proposition Seems Feasible He Will Install High-Power Outfit

"If the fact can be proved to me that the radiophone can be put to first class practical use by the Lowell police department, I will look into the matter thoroughly with an idea of equipping the Lowell department with a complete outfit," said Acting Superintendent of Police W. S. MacBrayne.

The above was the superintendent's reply to the question as to whether or not the local police would take up a suggestion made at a recent convention of Massachusetts police chiefs in Boston as to the advisability of installing radiophone apparatus in all police stations.

Certain members of the Boston police department went on record as favoring a broadcasting station for Boston. At the present time many tips are received from the Medford Hillside station by the police which have proved valuable in running criminals to earth.

The local police head says he would not consider the installation of radio service merely for a fad, but that if he could better the facilities of the department in any way he would be glad to consider the matter. His big objection at the present is the comparatively small number of Massachusetts police stations which are equipped with their own service.

He admits there are great possibilities for the radio in police circles, but that the installation of service would have to be pretty general before the idea could be considered practical. If all big police stations throughout the state should adopt the plan, the superintendent gives the assurance that Lowell would not be left in the lurch.

Mr. MacBrayne is willing to be convinced on the subject, and while he is not a radio fan he had heard of instances where the wins of the air have been put to good use by the police.

The radio matter as far as the local police head is concerned simmers down to one word, "conviction." If any radio expert or body of experts feel they can win over the police head to their side, he will be willing to talk the matter over with them.

COLLEGE GIRLS TAKE UP RADIO

Radio has entered girls' colleges, as well as boys'. A course of study in this subject has been started at Radcliffe college, famed Boston educational institution for young women. The Radcliffe station is fully equipped to transmit and receive telephone messages. Above are some of the students in the radio course carrying on a conversation with their friends in Chicago.

SOME FACTS ABOUT RADIO INSULATION

The most widely used insulating material for radio panels, tubes and other insulating parts is a laminated substance built of paper or fabric which has been thoroughly impregnated with phenol condensation products. Among these products the most widely used for radio insulating purposes is formica. It is employed by a very large percentage of the radio manufacturers and is sold by practically all radio dealers. Other products for the same purpose are bakelite, diecto, mica and celcon.

This whole class of phenol products is often referred to mistakenly as bakelite, but as a matter of fact, bakelite is only one of a number of phenol condensation products, and the name refers only to the chemical with which the underlying material is impregnated and not to the finished radio product.

The use of phenol as an insulating material is comparatively new—dating back not more than ten or twelve years. The panels and tubes have many characteristics that are superior to the older insulating materials. They will not chip or crack like hard rubber and are therefore machined and worked much more easily and are not so breakable. They are better than vulcanized fibre because the latter will absorb moisture and rapidly lose insulating quality when wet.

The use of the extreme high frequency currents that are necessary in radio work requires as nearly perfect an insulation as possible.

Phenol insulation that is well made takes a very high polish, or by working with sandpaper can be given a very handsome satin finish. It is strong mechanically, does not chip or crack, and absorbs practically no moisture so it will retain its good looks and efficiency indefinitely.

The wastage of natural gas in the United States is about half the production.

Approximately 4,750,000 tons of wheat feeds are produced annually by four mills in the United States.

RADIO HEAD SETS TESTED WITH COINS

The telephone head receivers of a radio set are perhaps the most sensitive part of the apparatus.

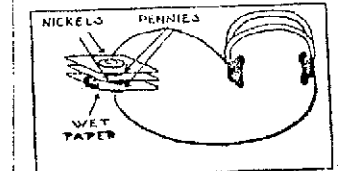

Whenever they are not in use, they should be hung up alongside the set, so as to avoid their being knocked off the table. Any kind of shock might cause injury to the delicate diaphragms of the ear-phones.

These diaphragms vibrate at several thousand times a minute, when signals are being heard, and for this purpose they must be exact in every particular, to reproduce a voice or message accurately.

If, for any reason, the head set is believed to be damaged in any way, there is an easy way to test them.

Place a one-cent piece on the table and on that place a slightly larger piece of tissue paper that had previously been soaked in vinegar. On the wet paper place a five-cent coin. Then another vinegar-soaked paper, another cent piece and so on for four or six layers.

Place the head set over your ears, and take a tip of the telephone cord

HOW TO TEST HEAD SET

In each hand. Touch one tip to the bottom coin, which should be a cent piece, and the other tip to the top coin—a nickel without any paper on it.

By holding the phone cord tip to the bottom coin and tapping the top nickel coin lightly with the other tip, a clicking noise will be heard if the receivers are in good condition. This noise is caused by the closing of an electrical circuit between the coins and the phones. The stack of coins and wet paper form a delicate electric generator.

The efficiency of the phones can be estimated from the amount of clicks used in the stack. The lower the stack the better the phones.

RADIO PRIMER

Regeneration—The property of radio receiving circuit to "feed back" energy from the plate circuit to the grid, so as to amplify the original strength of the received signals. This method of amplification was invented by E. H. Armstrong, formerly a major in the United States Signal Corps. A circuit having the capacity for regeneration is called a "Regenerative, or Armstrong, circuit."

American Woman Carries War On Opium to Parliament

LONDON, May 9.—Uncle Sam will have a say in John Bull's "Look here, John, let's talk about that opium monopoly of yours. By reason of your encouragement of the opium industry, my sons and my daughters are being poisoned by thousands. They are becoming opium, morphine and heroin addicts."

That is the view of one of the leading crusaders against opium, Miss Ellen N. Lamotte, author of "The Opium Monopoly," "Peking Dust," and other books.

Miss Lamotte, an American, was honored recently by being asked to address a meeting under the auspices of the British Anti-Opium society. She is over here trying to interest members of parliament and editors in the opium evil.

An Uplift Fight
"It is an uphill fight," says Miss Lamotte. "One is always met with the bland statement that the League of Nations is taking up the matter and that all civilized nations will be asked to pass uniform laws against opium."

"But laws don't suppress the curse. The way to suppress it is to go to the source and stop the growth of crops for opium and the wholesale disposition of the deadly drug."

"Now that source is India, where producing opium is a government monopoly from which the government of India receives more than $20,000,000 a year."

"The opium poppy is cultivated mainly in Bengal. The cultivator receives a government license and he is loaned money without interest by the government to enable him to raise the crop."

"In return the cultivator has to deliver the whole of his crop to the government at a fixed price. The government opium agents send the raw material to the government-opium factory at Ghazipur."

"Here it is manufactured in three forms—excise opium, which is sold to the natives of India and Burma; provision opium, intended for export to foreign countries; and medical opium, for export to London."

"The provision opium is auctioned off once a month by the government of India. Hither come buyers from all parts of the world. After the government has sold the opium at these auctions in Calcutta, it washes its hands of the matter.

"And from that time on the stuff passes from dirty hands to dirtier hands. In each transfer the price mounts and mounts. It falls into the possession of those who smuggle it into the United States by way of Canada and Mexico."

"It is delivered to the opium agents in big cliques and these pass it out to their tools, the lowest of the low, who peddle it for as high a price as they can get."

"The great bulk of this opium and its derivatives used to be consumed in China, India and British colonies in the Far East where the British administrations get a large part of their revenue from the excise tax on opium and opium shops."

"Now China as a field for exploitation has been shut and this opium is seeking new outlets. One of the chief outlets is America."

ASSOCIATES PAY TRIBUTE TO UNCLE JOE CANNON

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Tears came to the eyes of "Uncle Joe" Cannon in the house yesterday as members referring to his 84th birthday anniversary Sunday told of the regret occasioned in congress by his retirement next March.

Representative Mondell, the republican leader, said that while Mr. Cannon would not be in the house in person after that time, "he will be with us in spirit and in the embodiment of that splendid influence he so long exerted in this body and the public."

"Crouched down in his seat and taking no part in the brief ceremony, 'Uncle Joe' smiled just once—when Representative Garrett, Tennessee, the democratic leader, declared the entire membership regretted his decision to retire from the house 'in the bloom of his youth.'"

Representative Allen Robertson, republican, Oklahoma, objected to a reference to "Uncle Joe" as an old man and expressed the hope that "Uncle Joe" might be willing to run again after a rest of two years.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
A birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Williams, 502 Lakeview ave. recently to their son, James C. Williams in honor of his 12th birthday. His friends called and wished him health to enjoy a good many more. A most enjoyable evening was spent and he received numerous presents including a beautiful ring from his mother, the presentation being made by Miss Ruth Child, 14 years, who played a most charming and favorable part in the party. The party broke up at a reasonable hour.

Included in the list of founders of the National Women's party are 82 women from 15 states.

Are you sick? Are you suffering? If so, call on him and take advantage of his skill and experience.

The rapidity with which he describes all diseases is truly wonderful and astonishes those who call upon him; and his extensive, practical experience enables him to determine whether a case is curable or whether it is incurable.

Dr. Naughton will positively be at the NEW AMERICAN HOTEL, WEDNESDAY, May 10th 1922, from 10.00 o'clock in the morning until seven o'clock in the evening to consult with and examine all cases personally.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY TO END ALL WAR

TACOMA, Wash., May 8.—The convention of the national congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers' associations got down to business when Mrs. Milton P. Higgins of Massachusetts, national president, convened the executive committee. The first open meeting was held today.

Mrs. Higgins said the women have an exceptional opportunity to end war and she predicted that the association would enter actively into bringing about an era of permanent peace. "The 10-year peace holiday," she declared, "is the great opportunity of the teachers and parents of America to end all war." She said that banishment of illiteracy was the great aim of the Parent Teachers' association and suggested that parents should receive special training to educate their children properly.

ROBERTSON WARNED BY SENATOR'S DAUGHTER

NEW YORK, May 8.—"The scheming of my family in getting on my nerves I know that you are under surveillance in New Jersey and that you were under surveillance in Texas. Letters have been sent to my mother stating that you are an adventurer and fortune-seeker. You must be very careful and remember your promise not to do anything that might cause trouble to everybody."

So wrote Miss Mary Culberson, only daughter of Senator Charles A. Culberson of Texas, to Alec B. Robertson, the young British war veteran. Robertson charges, that following the discovery by Miss Culberson's family of their romance, he was induced by threats made by three Burns detectives to accompany them to Boston and permit them to arrange for his passage upon a boat for South America.

A copy of this letter, which reached Robertson at Bloomfield, N. J., April 6, shortly before the detectives called upon him, came out yesterday through persons interested in the case, but not through the young Britisher, who is averse to making public any communications he has received from Miss Culberson.

With other correspondence it will be said by him before officials of the British embassy at Washington as corroborative evidence of the young man's charge, upon which, it was stated authoritatively yesterday, his government will make an investigation. It was learned yesterday that certain powerful, unseen interests already are working in Robertson's behalf, and that a strong demand will be made for a congressional investigation. A committee of the house will be asked to take up the charge that Burns detectives represented to Robertson they were operatives of the department of justice, of which William J. Burns is now the head.

Miss Culberson's affection for Robertson is reported to have cooled within the last few days.

FAREWELL, TRIX
Dying, Mrs. John J. Burns, Seattle, asked that Trixie, dog pal of herself and husband, follow her beyond. Mrs. Burns is bidding Trixie good-by as the executioner approaches.

WORKERS ACCEPT ARBITRATION PLAN

BOSTON, May 9.—The Lynn joint council of the United Shoe Workers of America last night voted to accept the arbitration plan of Mayor McPherson in the dispute between the shoe manufacturers and their employees over a proposed wage reduction.

Under the mayor's proposition an arbitration board composed of one representative of the union, one of the manufacturers and a chairman to be selected jointly by the two members would be appointed to go into the whole question of wages and hours and frame a new agreement to replace the one that expired on May 1.

The Manufacturers' association is expected to announce its attitude on the matter tomorrow.

LOWELL CASES IN CAMBRIDGE COURT

William J. Sternberg, gentleman burglar, arrested here recently by Officers Spillane and Liston at an early hour in the morning when he was caught in the act of robbing offices in the Donovan building, was yesterday sentenced to nine months in the house of correction in superior court, East Cambridge.

Harry Saxe and Joseph Salvia, also arrested on charges of breaking and entering in the night time into a Police street harbor shop were sentenced to the Concord reformatory.

"National Disabled Soldiers' Week"

WASHINGTON, May 9.—President Harding and the state governors will be asked to set aside the week May 28 to June 3, as "National disabled soldiers' week" Samuel J. Reed, chairman in charge of the plan of the National Disabled Soldiers League, announced today. Other organizations working in behalf of the disabled veterans, have been invited to participate in the movement. The purpose, Mr. Reed said, is to set aside a week during which the "disabled soldier question shall receive the concentrated interest of every citizen" toward "alleviating the suffering of individual disabled men and their families."

Snipers Continue Activity in Belfast

BELFAST, May 9.—Snipers are continuing their activity in the York street district of Belfast. A woman was wounded yesterday evening and a man on his way to work this morning also was slightly hurt by a bullet.

11 Additional Mines Opened Last Week

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., May 9.—Eleven additional mines were brought into operation last week a report received Monday by the West Virginia Coal Association stated. The total now working was said to be 618. A total of 229,600 tons of coal were loaded in the state Saturday.

EXHAUSTED NERVE FORCE CAUSES THOUSANDS TO MAKE FAILURES IN LIFE

—Doctor Tells What To Do

When your nerve force becomes weakened, all the vital organs of your body lose their normal strength and vigor, and as a result, all kinds of alarming symptoms may appear, such as nervous irritability, heart palpitation, indigestion, pains in the front or in the back of the head, more especially at the base of the brain, and a general weakened, run-down condition. In such cases, it's worse than foolish to waste your time taking stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs. Your starving nerve cells must have more nerve force, the same as a starving person must have food. This is best accomplished by increasing the activity and power of the nerve force-making organs, the principal one of which is the blood. This can be quickly and most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron, which not only increases the activity of the blood-making organs, but it feeds true red blood food directly to the blood itself, thereby helping to create millions of new red blood cells. This wonderfully increases the power of the blood to help manufacture new nerve force, the same as enriching the soil increases its power to grow more wheat, corn or oats.

If you are suffering from nerve exhaustion, you can quickly and easily prove to yourself the power of Nuxated Iron to help overcome your condition and make you strong and vigorous again by the following simple test: Make a written memorandum of all your symptoms before you start, then at the end of two weeks go over your symptoms again and place a check mark after any that are left, and you can at once see what it has done for you. If you have not obtained most surprising results, all and even more than you expect the manufacturer will promptly refund your money.—Adv.

TO HUNT FOR LOST GOLD

Expedition for Salvaging Lusitania and Other Ships to Start May 25

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—An expedition for salvaging the Lusitania and other ships that have gone to the bottom of the ocean in the last few years will start from this city May 25. The steamship Blakeley has been chartered for the purpose by the Lusitania Salvaging Co. Estimates of gold that lie at the bottom of the sea run into the millions. A single passenger was said to have deposited $75,000 worth of the Lusitania, while Mme. Antoine de Page, wife of the medical director of the Belgian Red Cross, was reported to have carried more than $100,000.

ADVERTISING BEFORE BAR OF ANALYSIS

By JOSEPH H. DEFREES
President, the United States Chamber of Commerce

Popular opinion today appears to be more and more insistent that industry should not add to the burdens of the consumer. The men in the street are questioning from an economic standpoint, as never before, all phases of producing, selling and distributing. He inclines to question a process in business methods or an incident of service and in this study of bartering and marketing he will direct more and more attention to one of the prime factors in distribution, namely, advertising. This mass-selling is a tremendous economic force, and has played a great part in our industrial development of the last decade. When it stands before the bar of present day analysis, it should be able to defend itself against all criticism. First, it should be morally clean. It should command public confidence because of its truthfulness and under-statement rather than by exaggerated selling talk. Clean, because it will not help see a commodity to other families that would not be recommended to the advertiser's own family.

In the second place, it should be able to defend itself on economic grounds. A good deal is being said about tremendous advertising appropriations adding to the burdens of the consumer. Advertising should make sure that this charge will not stick; that wherever it is used it cuts out waste in distribution, allows quantity production and ultimately gives the consumer a better product at a better price.

BIG BILL WEIGHS 624

Caddo Indian Buys Summer Suit—Takes 10 Yards of Cloth to Make Shirt

ANADARKO, Okla., May 9.—Big Bill, a Caddo Indian, living near Gracemont, has just ordered his summer suit, a pair of trousers and a shirt. It took 10 yards of material to make the shirt, while the trousers have a modest waist measure of eight feet. Big Bill is believed to outweigh all other Indians in size. He weighs 624 pounds, has a thigh measurement of 36 inches, and an upper arm measurement of 25 inches.

MEET AT WHITE HOUSE

Harding Calls G. O. P. Leaders to Discuss Merchant Marine Bill

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The administration's merchant marine bill will be discussed at the white house conference tonight, to which President Harding has invited the republican members of the senate commerce and merchant marine committee. Chairman Lasker of the shipping board also is expected to attend.

It was understood to be the purpose of the president to urge passage of the bill during the present session of congress.

$12,000 IN JEWELRY STOLEN FROM CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Jewelry valued at $12,000 was stolen last night from an exhibit maintained by Shreve & Co. in a hotel lobby.

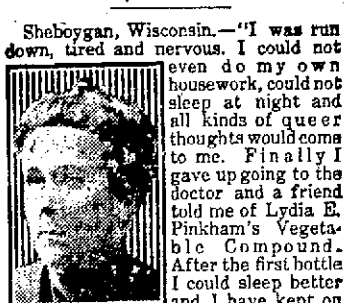

Four pieces of jewelry, all of diamonds set in platinum, were taken. The weight of the thief's arm apparently limited the haul, as other jewelry in the case valued at more than $30,000 was not touched.

The thief had loosened and then removed a small glass section in the side of the case. He is believed to have worked for days at odd moments loosening the pane.

Fifteen thousand persons lost their lives in fires in the United States during the last year.

QUEER FEELINGS AT MIDDLE AGE

Women Should Know How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps at This Trying Period

Sheboygan, Wisconsin.—"I was run down, tired and nervous. I could not even do my own housework, could not sleep at night and all kinds of queer thoughts would come to me. Finally I gave up going to the doctor and a friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After the first bottle I could sleep better and I have kept on improving ever since. I have taken seven bottles now and am so happy that I am all over these bad feelings.—Mrs. B. LANSER, 1639 N. 3rd St., Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

For the woman entering middle age Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can be of much benefit. During this time of life certain changes take place which sometimes develop into serious trouble.

Melancholia, nervousness, irritability, headache and dizziness are some of the symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a natural restorative, especially adapted to assist nature in carrying you safely past this time. Why not give it a fair trial?

BAD BREATH Comes from Biliousness

So does a bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, dull headache, and unhealthy yellowish skin, these symptoms all tell the story of a disordered system and your immediate need of a purely vegetable corrective to prevent infection and a sick spell.

Sewing Is Hard Work

The Following Letter From Mrs. Dugau, of Waltham, Mass., Describes Suffering That Many a Woman Has Experienced

"Being a dressmaker, working very steady, I have been tired out and exhausted. In the morning I was more tired than when going to bed at night. I got so that I had no ambition and courage. My back bothered me; my kidneys were in very bad condition; I had pains in my knees and ankles. Nothing seemed to help me. I took several medicines, but all failed. At last I decided to try Sanel. It has done wonders for me. With just one bottle, I feel better every way, so I am going to keep on with it until I am well, for I am convinced that it is the best health builder on the market."

Any obliging druggist will sell you Sanel.

JAIL SENTENCES FOR SMUGGLERS

Rum-Running Too Profitable to Feel the Handicap of Occasional Fine

Head of Vermont Anti-Saloon League Urges Action to Stop Traffic

Quebec Premier Estimates Liquor Traffic Will Wipe Out Debt in 20 Years

SPRINGFIELD, Vt., May 8.—Liquor smuggling from the province of Quebec into Vermont is on the increase and the inflow this summer will be great unless every smuggler caught gets the maximum sentence imposed. Rev. Clement G. Clarke, head of the Vermont Anti-Saloon league told delegates to the State Congregational conference, which opened here today. Clerical and lay delegates from 200 churches in the state were in attendance when Judge Frank L. Fish of Vergennes called the conference to order.

Declaring that a careful investigation of the rum-running business over the Canadian border had shown that "we have under-estimated not over-estimated the amount of incoming liquor," Rev. Mr. Clarke, who is pastor of the First Congregational church here, asserted that prison sentences must be imposed on smugglers as fines would not stop smuggling.

"The smuggling business," he said, "is too profitable to feel the handicap of an occasional fine."

"What do you think of the calm proposal of the premier of Quebec, who, claiming a profit of four millions a year and admitting that 84 per cent of the liquor was sold to people outside the province, suggests that the government should devote two millions of this to education, one million to good roads, and the other million towards liquidating the school debt?"

"He calculated that in 20 years the liquor traffic would wipe out the entire provincial indebtedness."

"Stop the smuggling from Quebec into Vermont with prison sentences and you will interrupt this little plan of our benevolent neighbor."

"LONE WOLF" IS CAUGHT IN HUB

Neeley Johnson, Sought for Three Years, Admits Scores of Thefts

Called One of the Greatest and Most Daring of All Burglars

BOSTON, May 8.—The "Lone Wolf," the master burglar, robber, second story worker, and human fly, sought for three years by the police of almost every city in Eastern New England, and characterized by police officials throughout the state as one of the greatest and most daring of all burglars, a human dynamo, with "a wit faster than that of a Philadelphia lawyer," has been caught.

At first he refused to give his name. Later he told the police he was Neeley Johnson, 22 years of age, of 1317 Fitz Water street, Philadelphia. He was questioned and permitted to go to sleep after refusing to talk.

Yesterday he was positively identified. Officials from a dozen towns and cities, all armed with scores of warrants for his arrest, arrived at Boston police headquarters, where Johnson was taken in the chief's car, handcuffed to Lieutenant Stittler. He then made a clean breast of it all. Despite a bombardment of questions from the different officers he remained calm and collected. Smoking a cigaret, he posed and weighed every question thrown at him. He answered every one in a slow, deliberate way, and appeared confident of everything he said.

He admitted the breaks committed in Cambridge. He admitted the breaks committed in Brookline, Lexington, Newton, Arlington, Belmont and other cities and towns he visited throughout New England. He told the police how he had worked and how easy he had found it to escape after ransacking the homes of the wealthy residents he forced his way into.

Cleaved in $7000 in Cambridge. When questioned by Lieutenant Nelson, one of the Cambridge police he admitted having stolen articles during his raid on the houses throughout the Brattle street section the value of which he estimated to be about $7000. He informed the police that while committing a break he did not know just what part of the city he was working in. Sometimes he would act as lookout while his confederate forced his way into the house, while most times he assumed the responsibility of entering alone.

Fourteen different houses in the exclusive section of Cambridge were entered by the lone thief himself within two weeks. Loot estimated at several thousands of dollars was taken. The thief climbed water spouts, flower trellises and borrowed ladders to get through open windows. In the many houses he entered. His ability to climb buildings was proven a number of times when it was learned that he had entered through a window on the second floor of a house without the aid of a ladder.

IOFFRE THANKS AMERICA

This Country Outdid All Others in Warmth of Greeting During Trip

PARIS, May 9 (by the Associated Press).—Marshal Joffre spent the first morning after his return to France from his world tour at the war college greeting friends. He will be received by President Millerand and Premier Poincare later in the week.

Speaking to the Associated Press, he said:

"Throughout my 80,000 miles of travel, I everywhere received a most cordial welcome, but it remained for America to outdo every other country in warmth of greeting.

"I was the recipient of boundless hospitality from your gracious president and your generous people. Madame Joffre, our daughter and I return our deepest thanks to all who made our journey across the American continent so pleasant and profitable. We should love to make the trip all over again."

Madame Joffre said she had kept a diary during the entire journey around the globe, but that events in the United States came so thick and fast she did not have time to record them.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Anyone looking for a good laugh has only to drop into the Merrimack Square Theatre and take one long look at Johnny Hines in "Burn 'Em Up Barnes," the headliner of a show of unusual merit. Even the great and only Charlie Chaplin, who is playing in "Pay Day," is a bit crowded for honors when Johnny starts to flicker on the screen. Elaine Hammerstein in "Reckless Youth" rounds out the program. Hines is pictured as the son of a wealthy man, born with a silver spoon in his mouth. He spends a bit of time toward the recklessness and seems to care little for his father's attempts to make him walk the straight and narrow.

Coming into the office late one day his father promptly tells him he is fired. Johnny leaves the office in anger and tells his father that he will leave the city. He goes to his club and meets a friend. The friend convinces him that the best thing to do is to go home and cool off.

With this plan in mind he starts home in his car. He is relieved of his money, his good clothes and after being knocked unconscious is tossed into a freight car. King Cole, a hobo, finds him, brings him to and takes the dazed youth in charge.

The pair are thrown out of the freight car by a trainman and finally strike a small town. There Johnny begs food from a nice looking girl. In fact he lives her so well he is reluctant to leave the town. Their courtship is full of little incidents.

The girl's brother is a teller at a bank and is taking small sums of money to give to his wife's brother, who has recently returned from jail. Finally a gang appears and it is planned to rob the bank with the teller working as inside man.

In the meantime, Johnny, who has returned a little from death, is unable to find the mother and a charge of kidnapping is placed against him. He is thrown into jail. His father, hearing of his son's predicament, starts out in the son's racing car to rescue him from jail.

The raid on the bank follows, with the principals attempting to get out of town using an auto road race as a means to hiding their hurried exit. Johnny is rescued from jail and starts out after the robbers. He is successful in their capture and returns to the girl.

The Chaplin reel is also a big laugh-producer. It shows the awkward-footed comedian in some really funny stunts. Miss Hammerstein is pictured as a reckless girl who is unable to hear the strict discipline of her grandparents with whom she goes to live. She runs away from home and leads a wild life until injured in an auto accident which brings her back to earth and cannot serve again.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

There is a girl at Keith's this week whom you will not enthrall over at the start but by the end of the act, you will join with your neighbors in acclamations of appreciation given any performer who has visited the local vaudeville house this season.

She is the Buddie Reissler, singer and vocalist, principally the first named. She is headlined and rightly so, for her work stamps her as far above the ordinary run and her versatility, cleverness and magnetism form a triple-coated combination hard to equal. Her very first entrance is novel and once she appears the speed of the act rapidly increases until at the climax it is wheeling along at a rate that fairly will make you gasp.

She comes on, or rather she comes out, as a singer of songs. What appears to be a piano lesson, really is a box in which she is hiding. The slides fall down and she steps from there to the top of the piano and there puts over her first song. Another song follows, this time sung from the stage. Then she dances, then she appears in a picture frame playing a steel guitar and then her act really begins. The first stage is used. Her work on the flying rings and swinging rope is wonderful and is topped off by a lightning head-foremost slide down the rope to within inches of the floor.

Worthy of second mention is the team of Joe Rome and Lou Gault. One is exceedingly tall and angular, while the partner is stubby and several feet shorter in stature than his playmate. They judiciously mix comedy with eccentric dancing that is of a particularly good brand.

Other acts on the bill include Jewell and Raymond, juvenile entertainers. They are a pair of exponents of Eddio Swartz and Julia Clifford, with the former purveying a snappy line of nonsensical chatter; Paul Gordon and Anne Rice is a high bicycle act and the Brightons, who make artistic pictures and portraits out of mere rags.

As an added feature the theatre is showing Charlie Chaplin's latest comedy picture, "Pay Day."

Pathe News, "The Day and the Night," "The Boy and His Dog," found out the bill.

THE STRAND THEATRE

For variety and quality the program at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week is one that cannot be excelled. A powerful drama, a comedy-drama and a real comedy form the nucleus of the bill and such artists as Nazimova, Jean Paige and Charlie Chaplin performing, there is all one can expect.

Nazimova appears in "A Doll's House," her first independent production, while Jean Paige is being featured in "The Prodigal Judge." Charlie Chaplin makes his appearance here in "Pay Day," his latest screen screen.

"A Doll's House" is from the pen of Ibsen, a noted playwright, who was criticized considerably for his advanced ideas of woman's rights, but the real interpretation of the play has given it a high standard among moral plays and it has proven to be a sketch that is finding favor among the members of the fair sex, while it is also being well received by the menfolk. It is a direct appeal to every woman and every girl, for its moral stands out as the strongest lesson ever taught. It deals with a young wife, who for years although loved and cherished by her husband, has been his toy-wife, as most of her time is devoted in cheering him with her musical and dancing talent. Although the mother of several children, she is looked upon as a plaything and never given an opportunity to develop her own individuality. The day of the climax comes, however, and that is when the young woman's action in forcing her father's name on a note in order to obtain money to bring her husband back to health. It is then that she revolts, leaves her selfish husband and goes into the world to develop her own individuality. As the young wife, Nazimova makes a wonderfully interesting and appealing character. She is being supported by an able cast.

"The Prodigal Judge" tells the story of unusual interest, a story full of action. It deals with a young woman, whose husband is killed on the day of their marriage by a rejected suitor. Later the young widow, whose interests and safety are being looked after by three men, whose friendship has been broken by the capture of a gang of thugs hired by the murderer, and taken away on a raft boat. The three guardians, as called by the law, are the young woman, the murderer and the judge. The play leads them to the young woman, "prison," and what follows, particularly the race on the river, is highly interesting and has been enough comedy in the play to make it very pleasing.

In his latest production, "Pay Day," Charlie Chaplin is the young man. He is even better than before. He goes through stunts that are amazing and produces a laugh every time he winks or moves. So funny has been his "Pay Day," that at yesterday afternoon's performance a woman went into hysteria. Charlie is an original character on the screen, but more so in his newest play, and he has a way of his own of amusing his audiences. Please the boy and girl and take them to the Strand to see Charlie this evening or tomorrow.

The program also includes a series of current event pictures that are very interesting, while the musical selections add greatly to the general enjoyment of the entire bill.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

It is a pity that Mark Twain died before the dramatic scene production of "Huckleberry Finn," "Tom Sawyer" and "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" were given to the public. His comments would be well worth reading. "The latter picture is to come to the Merrimack Square Theatre for a four days' engagement beginning next Sunday and indications point to a most successful run of the noted classic.

STATE CONSTABULARY ACTIVE

State constabulary officers were active between here and Lawrence last night, combating two autoists to the local police station for violation of the lighting law. Neither was arrested, but both were given warnings by Captain Petrie.

Man's Work Is Inferior to Nature's in "Man from Home"

EDNA PURVIANCE, ONCE CHAPLIN'S LEADING WOMAN, SHE IS NOW A STAR IN HER OWN NAME

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, May 9.—The screen version of "The Man from Home" is a drab play against a scintillant background. It is an exposition of the handiwork of God, beside which the crude artifice of human puppets pass with bare notice.

If you are able to take your eyes from the beautiful scenery George Fitzmaurice has trapped with the camera, you are aware that one of those trite old plots of an American hero winning his girl against the odds of (ills and social) prestige is being enacted in a lackadaisical manner.

For vistas of the Italian Riviera, Naples, Sorrento and other beautiful spots (thrill and amuse you). Here is pictorial art that has seldom been equaled on the screen, even by the Bruce Scenics.

The play itself is lightened with a bit of comedy by James Kirkwood, the only one of the cast to do effective work except Dorothy Cumming, who fits her vampish bit.

But for the greater length of the film the unwinding of the story is tedious, the flashes of scenery coming as

TWO PICKED UP AT SEA

Men Weak From Hunger and Exposure Found by Sheerest Accident

NORFOLK, Va., May 8.—Picked up by sheerest accident after they had drifted five days without food or water in a half-sunken launch, B. J. Gardner and J. G. Trullit of Miami, Fla., were landed here yesterday by the schooner Harry G. Deering. The men had turned their clothing for distress signals when found and were weak from hunger and exposure.

Leaving Miami April 20 to try out the boat—a former sub-chaser purchased from the navy—Gardner and Trullit were only a short distance from their home port when they found their launch was leaking badly. The water soon put the engine out of commission. Many vessels passed, they said, but none heeded their signals. Last Thursday night the Deering crashed into the half-submerged launch.

"I used to dread to lift the lid of the garbage can. It was the only housekeeping duty I ever thoroughly disliked. And besides, Dr. Bell's lecture at our Civic Club on Home Sanitation made me realize how dangerous to family health unprotected garbage receptacles can be. He explained how germ-carrying flies breed there so rapidly.

"That's how I discovered Sylpho-Nathol, or rather, Clara Peabody discovered it for me. She had been using it for a long time in her house.

"I wouldn't think of using anything else," she said, when I talked to her. "We have tried so many other things. Not one of them was nearly so satisfactory. They either had a perfectly horrid smell or were poisonous, or were so bothersome to mix."

"Sylpho-Nathol is different. It is so easy to prepare—one teaspoonful in a quart of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution that is ready for immediate use.

"Sylpho-Nathol is sure—just rinse out the garbage can with the solution, sprinkle it in every day, and the flies won't come near."

"Sylpho-Nathol is safe—4½ times stronger than carbolic acid yet no more dangerous to have in the house than a cake of scouring soap.

"Sylpho-Nathol has so many important household uses—for mop water that destroys germs; for sprinkling in dark, musty-smelling corners; as a flush for closet bowls and for wiping around bathroom floors and fixtures—in fact wherever absolutely germ-free, odorless cleanliness is desired.

"Sylpho-Nathol is efficient, easy to use and economical. It comes in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. If you have never used it, phone your grocer to include a bottle in your order. Either he or your druggist can supply you. If not, he can get it easily. Ask for it by the name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

PASSED WORTHLESS CHECK

A warning is issued by local police for persons to be on the lookout for a bogus check-worker who passed a worthless check in this city yesterday. The amount of the check was $12.50 and was signed by A. B. Fairchild. It was drawn on the Federal Reserve bank of Providence. The man is described as being about 50 years old, 5 feet in height. He wore a brown coat, blue trousers, a soft black hat and a black necktie.

"NO TRESPASSING"

Members of the Lowell Christian Endeavor union last night presented "No Trespassing" at the Y.M.C.A., under the capable leadership of Mrs. William Dodge Haskell. The piece is a comedy in three acts and was admirably given by an excellent cast that included Madeleine Pinkham, Rena Hatch, Carrie Stewart, Dorothy Adams, Ruth Clough, Arthur Thompson, Harold Bishop, Joseph Hallgren, Leonard Fish, Elton Silk and Osmond Cornum.

The last census showed that there were 450 Indians living in Oregon at that time.

What Lura Liquid Shampoo Will Do for Your Hair

The rediscovered beauty secret of Ancient Egypt

EXPERT hair-dressers know that a henna properly used in a shampoo gives life and youthful gloss and beauty to dull, dry or graying hair.

LURA LIQUID SHAMPOO is made from a formula that is the result of long research.

It is the Egyptian hair tonic, the very same that Cleopatra used, rediscovered, modernized and put up in attractive bottles.

The Charm of Beautiful Hair

There is nothing which can balance the missing charm of fine, healthy hair; no beauty of face or figure, no charm of manner, no pretty clothes.

Either your personal charm is perfected by the fine beauty of healthy, luxuriant hair—or it is marred by the lack of it. You cannot evade it; you cannot hide it. Lura Liquid Shampoo makes possible the most careful attention to the hair. It gives a glossiness, a silky sheen, a golden tint that is not possible by the use of any other shampoo or tonic. You can, by the use of it, bring back that wonderful natural beauty; that beautiful youthful lustre. You owe it to yourself, and your position in life demands that you give as much attention to your hair as you do to your teeth, your hands, and, in fact, your general physical condition.

People of refinement have discovered that the prophylactic action of this wonderful preparation keeps the hair and the scalp clean, pure and wholesome. It stops itching, cools the fevered scalp and imparts a marked sense of cleanliness. A bottle of Lura Liquid Shampoo will last you many weeks, as it requires a smaller quantity than any other shampoo, which therefore makes it the most economical shampoo on the market.

It makes a delightfully refreshing lather which leaves the scalp with that clean feeling, and the hair fluffy, fragrant and bright.

Lura Will Youthfulize Your Hair

Its use brings back the gloss and brightness of Youth without altering the color in the smallest degree. So be assured, this product primarily is a shampoo, not a coloring or a dye. On the other hand, Lura may be used to add the fashionable golden tint to your hair—the directions tell you how. It is good for men, women and children. LURA Henna Shampoo, 8-oz. bottle; LURA Ideal Shampoo (without Henna), 6-oz. bottle. At all druggists.

NOTE: To prove what Lura will do for your hair, Lura Laboratories Co., Chicago, will send sample test bottle upon receipt of 10c in coin or stamps to cover postage. For pure and clean which product is desired, Lura with Henna or without.

JAILED FOR HAVING INDECENT PICTURES

NEW YORK, May 9.—Charged with possessing indecent pictures and literature, Lorenzo Dow Covington, of Covington, Ky., 60-year-old Egyptologist and lecturer, who was at one time suggested as a United States consul, was sent to jail yesterday for six months.

Covington was said to have appeared as a lecturer in most of the big cities of the country and was reported to have been a member of the Royal Government Society of England, proposed by the late Sir Ernest Shackleton.

"You appear to have a Doctor Jekyll and Mr. Hyde personality," said Judge Herbert as Covington was sentenced. "One side of your brain appears to be of high mental calibre, while the other is low and degenerate."

Covington was arrested on complaint of the New York Society for Suppression of Vice. John S. Sumner, secretary of the organization and successor to Anthony Comstock, declared Covington had aided the society to convict several others of the same charge, until it developed that most of those convicted got their pictures and books from him.

For the last six years he has been delivering lectures for the board of education here.

LLOYD GEORGE DENIES BREAK WITH FRANCE

GENOA, May 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Lloyd George himself appeared yesterday afternoon at a meeting which had been arranged for the British and American correspondents, apparently for the purpose chiefly of denying reports appearing in British and French papers that Mr. Lloyd George and M. Barthou came near the breaking point Saturday and that the British prime minister had virtually announced that the entente was finished and that France and England must go their separate ways.

Mr. Lloyd George declared that the difference between him and M. Barthou in no sense constituted a break between the allies and that the stenographic record of their conversation did not disclose any such statements as attributed to him. This record, however, was not available to the correspondents, and Mr. Lloyd George did not comply with the suggestion that it be shown to the press.

He reiterated the statement that the Genoa conference may mark a turning point in European history, and asserted that success or failure depends largely on the attitude the Russians take in their reply to the allied memorandum, and that consideration of the non-aggressive peace and continuation of the negotiations were contingent on the nature of the Russian reply.

If the Russian delegation answers today, as seems likely, he said it would require at least another day for the powers signatory to the Russian memorandum to exchange views and two or three days for the experts to discuss the reply. If the Russian reply was a categorical "no," which, in the opinion of the premier, did not seem possible, then it would be difficult to continue the discussions with the Russians.

To the question as to whether there would be a probationary period before actual de jure recognition, in case an agreement was reached, he answered affirmatively, but did not indicate how long the period would be.

Speaking of clause seven of the Russian memorandum which relates to property in Russia of foreigners, and on which France and Belgium base their opinion, he expressed that the clause was compiled by three of the world's best jurists, Fromageot, France; Cattier, Belgium; and Hurst, England, all of whom approved the text. It also was accepted by all countries except Belgium. France was even permitted to make a special amendment to the clause before she accepted it.

ASSOCIATED HARVARD CLUBS' MEETING

Robert F. Herrick, president of the Harvard club of Boston, which will be the host for the 24th annual meeting of the Associated Harvard clubs at Boston and Cambridge on June 16 and 17, says, "Don't miss it; it will be a reunion never to be forgotten."

All living Harvard men have been invited. Fully 2000 are coming, and it may get up to 3700, or an even ten per cent. of the living Harvard men, for acceptances continue strong day after day.

Under the heading, "Important Notice," the Boston committee cordially extends the invitation: "Every man who has attended any department of Harvard university, either graduate school or academic course, is not only eligible but welcome, and is urged to attend this meeting, whether or not a member of a Harvard club."

New Move to Prevent Break at Genoa

NUMBER OF OPERATIVES INCREASE AT THE HAMILTON MILLS

Strike Leaders Set Number of Operatives Employed at 600---Unofficial Report From Mill Says 1200---Lowell Textile Council Plans Series of Mass Meetings

The Hamilton mill is today operating about 75 per cent. normal or with about 1200 operatives. This is an unofficial statement from the mill. On the other hand the strike leaders, who base their contention on reports of pickets who were at the mill gates this morning, claim that there are about 600 men and women at work or that the plant is running about 25-30 per cent. normal.

PICKET U. T. W. HEADQUARTERS

O. B. U. Committee Sends Pickets to Patrol in Front of Rival Union's Quarters

Calls United Textile Workers "a Strike Breaking Organization"

LAWRENCE, May 9.—The One Big Union strike committee declaring the United Textile Workers of America "a strike breaking organization" today began to picket the U.T.W. headquarters in Spanish War Veterans' building. The first of the pickets reached the locality shortly before noon, and it was announced that they would be on duty there continuously throughout the day and evening.

WOULD WIPE OUT WATER DEPARTMENT DEFICIT

Believing that a deficit of $58,387.95 in the city water department should be wiped out immediately, City Auditor Daniel E. Martin has sought the co-operation of the board of public service in an effort to have an order introduced in the city council as a means of obtaining sufficient money to cover the deficit entry that now has been carried on the city books for a number of years.

The auditor proposes that money either be transferred from the water maintenance account or from 1922 water receipts, for this purpose.

While the total receipts of the water department for this year may be slightly less than in 1921, it is believed they will bulk large enough to care for this deficit and as the auditor feels that it is illegal to continue carrying over this amount of deficit, he seeks to have it cared for at once.

The city auditor is not concerned with the creation of the deficit, but states that it is illegal to allow it to continue. What really has occurred in past years is this. The water department has gone along just living within its revenues, without decreasing the outstanding deficit, a practice, Auditor Martin feels that it has continued so long enough.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Judge Enright Rules on Question Having to Do With Living Expenses

Special Officer Fined for Having Watered Milk in His Possession

"If a married woman can live and support two children on $10 a week, it is reasonable to suppose that her husband can get along on $9 a week, providing that he is willing to skip a little on some things," remarked Judge Thomas J. Enright, in police court this morning in making disposition of a non-support case.

ZONING SYSTEM MEETS WITH APPROVAL

That the zoning system which has been under consideration by the chamber of commerce has found many warm adherents throughout the city is proven by the endorsements received at the chamber headquarters today. To date, most of the endorsements have come from persons concerned in the protection of residential districts, whose neighborhoods have been afflicted by the establishment of business enterprises of various natures, causing enormous devaluations in property value, to say nothing of other causes of irritation, such as disfigurement of an entire residential section.

RECORD IN LOCAL SCHOOL CIRCLES

When Miss Kate J. Hayes, teacher of the sixth grade at the Edison grammar school, was forced to remain away from her class yesterday, it was the first time in 38 years that she had not been at her desk on a day in which the school was in session.

CONG. STINNESS IN HOSPITAL
BOSTON, May 9.—Congressman Walter R. Stinness of Rhode Island came here today for medical treatment. He was understood to be threatened with blood poisoning, but his physician refused to make public the nature of the ailment. He said Congressman Stinness, who is 63 years old, probably would be able to leave the hospital in a week or two.

Federal Grand Jury in Session at Boston Returned But 21 No Bills

Indictment in Case of Raid at Quincy House, Boston, Among List

BOSTON, May 9.—A federal grand jury drawn from all parts of the state today returned 214 indictments in liquor cases. Only 21 no bills were returned. Previous grand juries have returned a much greater proportion of no bills.

TWO GIRLS KIDNAPPED

Taken to Canobie Lake Camp by Four Men, it is Alleged—One Escapes

LAWRENCE, May 9.—The story of the alleged abduction of two local girls by four men in an automobile Sunday afternoon, was made public by the police this noon. The girls were Marion Elander, 16 and Lillian Johnson, 19, and the former is still missing. The latter escaped from a camp at Canobie Lake, N. H., where they were taken by the men, according to the girl's story.

U. S. CABINET DISCUSSES RUSSIAN PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, May 9.—A discussion of the Russian problem as it is affected by the negotiations at Genoa, occupied most of today's session of the cabinet. It developed an opinion that the attitude of the allied governments toward the soviet regime had shaped out at Genoa in virtual agreement with the policies of the United States.

FREED AFTER SERVING 15 YEARS IN ENGLAND

SOUTHAMPTON, England, May 9 (By the Associated Press).—Charles Smith of Virginia, who was given a life sentence in July, 1907, for shooting Edward Guerin, was released today. He will sail for America on the steamer Maesie under a deportation order issued by the home secretary. Smith's liberation after serving 15 years was due largely to the efforts of Lady Astor.

WORKING OUT NEW FORMULA

Conferees Discuss Clause Concerning Restoration of Foreign Property in Russia

Hope to Reach Agreement Which Will Satisfy Belgium and Therefore France

GENOA, May 9. (By the Associated Press).—English and Italian delegates to the economic conference met today with members of the Russian delegation and began working out a new formula concerning the restoration of foreign property in Russia, said an announcement this afternoon, by the French delegation. The announcement said it was hoped to devise a new clause in the Russian memorandum which would satisfy Belgium and therefore France. Belgium, although not participating, is being kept in touch with these informal negotiations.

GENOA, May 9. (By the Associated Press).—Genoa today was eagerly awaiting the soviet reply to the economic conference's memorandum on the Russian question with the fate of the conference hanging largely upon the tone of the Russian response. If the reply is essentially conciliatory, it is argued, the French and the

GOLDSTEIN NOMINATION

Sen. Spencer's Testimony Attacked and Defended in the Senate

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Appearance yesterday of Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, before republican members of the senate finance committee, in support of the nomination of Nat Goldstein to be internal revenue collector at St. Louis was criticized in the senate today by Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi and defended by Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, finance committee chairman.

$28,000 LOSS BY FIRE IN WORCESTER

WORCESTER, May 9.—Damage of $28,000 was caused today by fire which swept through a three-story brick building in Vernon square, formerly used as a motion picture theatre. The fire started in a pile of rubbish in the cellar from a short stub and mushroomed up through an atrium. Joseph Frank Ford slipped from a ladder but was saved from injury by Hoseman William Wronn, who broke his fall to the sidewalk by catching him in his arms.

GOLFERS TO USE AIRPLANES
HARTMAN, N. J., May 9.—Golf players of the Hartman Valley Country club, who own airplanes, soon may taxi into the air and alight on a spot between the sixth and eighth fairways of their golf course. Club officials announced today that a spot 900 feet long is being marked out.

AUTOISTS SUMMONED BEFORE THE SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE

Owners and Drivers of Cars Using Market Street as a Parking Place Are Asked to Explain Their Violations of City Parking Ordinances

Several autoists, who used Market street as a parking place this morning, received curl notices, delivered by Traffic Officer John T. Whelan, to report to the superintendent of police to explain why they had violated city parking ordinances. At least a half-dozen summons were served by Officer Whelan, all within the space of ten minutes.

THE RECONSTRUCTION OF CENTRAL BRIDGE WILL COST $90,000

Contract Let in 1921 Was in the Sum of $54,740---$61,593.10 Already Paid Out by City, With Bills Outstanding Amounting to Nearly $23,8000---Engineers' Estimate on Cost of Repairing Surface Already Laid Means $2500 More

Back in 1921 the city awarded a contract for the reconstruction of Central bridge to the Engineering Service and Construction Co. of Boston for the sum of $54,740 and already there has been paid out, under the contract and for extra work, $61,593.10. Before the job finally is completed the total cost will approximate $90,000.

Refunding Starts When Conference Ends

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Definite progress in the negotiations looking to the refunding of the eleven billion dollar foreign debt may be expected as soon as the Genoa conference is terminated and the foreign economic and financial experts are released from their duties there, administration officials said today. Since organization of the debts funding commission created by congress to handle the matter, the only developments reported to Secretary Hoover have been the preparation by several of the debtor nations of statements of their financial condition requested by the American commission as a necessary basis for consideration of the refunding.

Colby, Who Killed Blanchette, Set Free

CONCORD, N. H., May 9.—The case against Charles Colby, Jr., of Lawrence, Mass., for the shooting of Oliver Blanchette in West Hopkinton last Friday, was not pressed, when Colby was arraigned in municipal court here today and the prisoner set free. All the evidence presented indicated that Colby fired in self-defense the shot that killed Blanchette.

Dissolution Order Against Sugar Co.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Federal Judges Rogers, Hough and Manton today filed a dissolution order against the American Sugar Refining Co., and other corporate and individual defendants in the government's Sherman law suit begun 12 years ago.

The companies named in the petition were the American Sugar Refining Co., the National Sugar Refining Co. of New Jersey, the Great Western Sugar Co. of Chicago, and the Michigan Sugar Co. of Detroit.

During the 12-year wait, caused in large part by a decision to await rulings of the United States supreme court in the steel and harvester trust cases, the defendant corporations in the sugar trust case have abandoned their combination and conspiracy to restrain trade and commerce, and to monopolize the business of manufacturing and dealing in refined sugar, said the decree.

The judges, sitting as an expediting court, held, however, that at the time testimony in the case was heard enough of the allegations in the government petition were proved to entitle it to a dissolution order.

GEM VALUED AT $100,000
SOLD FOR $5500
NEW YORK, May 9.—The diamond which Prince Amanullah, Afghan sultan, valued at $100,000 when he brought it to this country last summer, was sold at a sheriff's execution sale today for $5500 to a collection buyer. The diamond had been attached by the government because duty was not paid on it.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

Edgerton Says Essentials Eliminated While Non-Essentials Are Clung To

NEW YORK, May 8.—Reviewing business conditions of the year just past which necessitated rigid retrenchment by manufacturers, John E. Edgerton, of Nashville, Tenn., president of the National Association of Manufacturers in his annual address before the convention here today, declared it "as strange as it is regrettable, that economies are started by the elimination of essentials by the public while non-essentials are clung to."

Mr. Edgerton, speaking of the association's purposes, asserted it tried in every honest way to influence the course of legislation touching particularly on those things that help or hurt American business.

"That is not only entirely proper," he said, "and within the scope of this association's functions, but we regard it as one of the sacred obligations of citizenship to co-operate with every department of our common government in the solution of all problems involving the common welfare."

"We proceed upon the commonly accepted theory that nothing is or can be of lasting value to industry that is not of equal value to every other class, group or individual in this country. The industrial payroll contributes more than any other factor to the determination of the purchasing power of the American public, and the nation's purchasing power is prosperity's weather vane."

A world production sufficient for the world's needs, declared Mr. Edgerton, was the chief of all economic problems, adding that the proportion of consumers to producers is too large and that there are too many people.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment. A noted skin specialist, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it, healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the relief this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar from any good drugist and use it like cold cream.

GIRLS! LEMON JUICE BLEACHES FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents. Shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan bleach, and complexion brightener.

Massage the evenly fragrant lemon lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes bleach, fade and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes.—M.C.

DOES NOT HAVE TO TAKE PHYSIC

"Fruit-a-lives" Brought Complete Relief

ASHFORD, New York. I tried several kinds of physic for over three years and, of course, while I took it every night my bowels would move; but as soon as I stopped taking physic, I would be constipated and would have Piles terribly.

I bought one box of "Fruit-a-lives" and took them. Now I am not troubled any more with Constipation or Piles. "Fruit-a-lives" or "Fruit Laxo Tablets" left no after-effects and now I do not have to use physic.

CHINESE WARSHIPS SENT TO SHEKIANG COAST

ASNOT, China, May 8. (By the Associated Press.) Two of the captured warships of the southern Chinese squadron are reported to have been sent to a point on the coast of Shekiang province by Sun Yat Sen, head of the southern government, the seat of which is at Canton.

The exact destination of the vessels and the purpose of their voyage is unknown here, but it is believed to be in connection with trouble between Shekiang and the province of Kiangsu, which adjoins it on the north.

It is generally believed that Gen. Chen, sympathizing with Wu Pei-fu in the latter's campaign against Chang Tiao-lin near Peking, is now threatening Sun and holding his army to Kwang Tung.

engaged in the processes of distribution. His address concluded with an expression of his belief that this country would continue to the heights of a "national and world greatness not hitherto known."

PRISONERS REVOLT, 14 ARE WOUNDED

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 8.—Fourteen prisoners were wounded, two possibly fatally, yesterday when 150 inmates of the South Carolina penitentiary revolted the authority of the guards. At the same time the chair factory building where the uprising occurred was set on fire, but the rebels were put down and the blaze extinguished quickly.

The trouble arose at the lunch hour when 150 prisoners refused to enter the chair factory for the afternoon's work and, armed with sticks and knives used in the factory work, advanced on the guards.

EAGLE TRIED TO STEAL BULLDOG

GOFFSTOWN, N. H., May 8.—Attracted by a noise to her veranda yesterday Mrs. Herbert Ainsworth of this town witnessed an eagle trying to fly off with her bulldog. The dog put up such a stiff battle that the eagle could not secure a firm grasp of the canine and the appearance of Mrs. Ainsworth frightened it away.

The eagle is believed to be one from Uncolmoun Mountain, one of the highest elevations in southern New Hampshire.

Convict Offered $2,000,000 for Oil Lands

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 8.—D. P. Hayes, a convict of negro and Indian blood, has received two offers, one purporting to be $2,000,000 and the other $1,800,000 for his oil interests, prison officials said today. He is serving three years for forgery. Hayes is said to be the owner of 160 acres of Mexican land, classified as oil land. He is reported to have been advised not to sell the land for less than $4,000,000.

Mrs. Hubbard Pleads Not Guilty

BOSTON, May 9.—Mrs. Carrie N. Hubbard, who shot and killed her husband, William B. Hubbard, wealthy germicide manufacturer, in their Roslindale home a week ago, pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging first degree murder today. Her counsel, John P. Feeney, was permitted to enter special pleas later if he so desired. Mrs. Hubbard was committed to jail.

The dove man buried his dead with an solemn religious rites as any, in vogue today.

RADIO ORGANIZATION

No Attached—Members Keep in Touch by Card System

An organization without officers or any form of government is being con-

NO DESIRE TO EAT

"I was very weak, had no desire to eat and did not enjoy my meals," says Mr. Edward J. Flynn of No. 7 Marshall street, Roxbury, Boston, Mass. "My digestion was disturbed and I was troubled greatly with gas on the stomach. I lacked strength and had no ambition for anything. My whole system was run down and debilitated. Upon the advice of a friend who had used them with benefit, I finally gave Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. I felt improvement before I had finished the first box, so much that I decided to continue the treatment. I did and the improvement in my condition is remarkable. I have a good appetite now, enjoy my meals and have no distress after eating."

"My wife can also endorse Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as she has also used them with great benefit. We are both glad to praise them." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Price, 60 cents.—Adv.

ducted today by nearly all licensed radio amateurs of the United States.

It has no name. It was never constituted as a body. It has no constitution or by-laws. No meetings.

Yet it includes in its membership nearly every licensed radio amateur in the country.

This "organization" was in existence for some time before the war, and has been spreading rapidly since the armistice. Any licensed operator may join it. There is no expense. No dues. The only way the members keep in touch with one another is by means of a post card system. Each amateur has his own post card on which is printed his name and address, and, in large type, his station call code. Besides this, the amateur has a description of his own sending and receiving set and blank spaces for remarks and information for the fellow member to whom he sends his card.

Operation

A typical way in which this organization works is this: Station SAUX at Cleveland, O., is transmitting a message on his allotted short wave length of not more than 200 meters to station 5HK at Oklahoma City. Station 4PD at Middletown, Conn., happens to be tuned to exactly the same wave length and gets the signals between SAUX and 5HK.

Every amateur is eager to learn of the greatest distance and new areas at which his own set can be heard. In return, he is just as eager to let another amateur know of any distant messages he has succeeded in intercepting.

Therefore 4PD fills out two cards, explaining the conditions under which he happened to receive the signals of SAUX and 5HK, and sends one to each of his fellow members. Thus, SAUX and 5HK are glad to learn their stations were heard as far off as Middletown, Conn.

This national interchange of cards is the only method amateurs have to learn how far efficient their sets are, heard or how efficient their sets are.

A.R.R.L. Supervision

Along the same plans, when one station cannot get another it happens to be calling, some intermediate station intercepts the message and passes it on.

The federal government, however, has recognized that some sort of supervision would have to be maintained over the relay of such messages. This power of supervision it has turned over to the American Radio Relay league, an organization composed of a large part of the licensed amateurs in the country.

Perhaps half, or even more, of the licensed amateurs are not members of this duly constituted organization. It is these, in addition to the A.R.R.L. members, who make up the large national organization without a name or constitution.

FLAGS FOR SCHOOL

Members of the James A. Garfield Relief Corps, 31, of this city went to Chelmsford yesterday afternoon and presented the Westlands school four handsome silk flags. The presentation being made by Mrs. Anna C. Holland, patriotic instructor for the corps. The program included a song by Mrs. Hallo Whitney, president of the corps, and addresses by Mrs. Alice Schofield, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Dexter and Mrs. Clara Donovan.

Sixty per cent. of the men are bald headed at 55, but only 1 per cent. of the women.

WIRELESS FOR POLICE STATION

Acting Supt. MacBrayne Says He Will Look Into Matter Thoroughly

If Proposition Seems Feasible He Will Install High-Power Outfit

"If the fact can be proved to me that the radiophone can be put to first class practical use by the Lowell police department, I will look into the matter thoroughly with an idea of equipping the Lowell department with a complete outfit," said Acting Superintendent of Police W. S. MacBrayne.

The above was the superintendent's reply to the question as to whether or not the local police would take up a suggestion made at a recent convention of Massachusetts police chiefs in Boston as to the advisability of installing radiophone apparatus in all police stations.

Certain members of the Boston police department went on record as favoring a broadcasting station for Boston. At the present time many tips are received from the Medford Hillside station by the police which have proved valuable in running criminals to earth.

The local police head says he would not consider the installation of radio service merely for a fad, but that if he could better the facilities of the department in any way he would be glad to consider the matter. His big objection at the present is the comparatively small number of Massachusetts police stations which are equipped with their own service.

He admits there are great possibilities for the radio in police circles, but that the installation of service would have to be pretty general before the idea could be considered practical. If all big police stations throughout the state should adopt the plan, the superintendent gives the assurance that Lowell would not be left in the lurch.

Mr. MacBrayne is willing to be convinced on the subject, and while he is not a radio fan he had heard of instances where the wings of the air have been put to good use by the police.

COLLEGE GIRLS TAKE UP RADIO

Radio has entered girls' colleges, as well as boys'. A course of study in this subject has been started at Radcliffe college, famed Boston educational institution for young women. The Radcliffe station is fully equipped to transmit and receive telephone messages. Above are some of the students in the radio course carrying on a conversation with their friends in Chicago.

SOME FACTS ABOUT RADIO INSULATION

The most widely used insulating material for radio panels, tubes and other insulating parts is a laminated substance built of paper or fabric which has been thoroughly impregnated with phenol condensation products.

Among these products the most widely used for radio insulating purposes is formica. It is employed by a very large percentage of the radio manufacturers and is sold by practically all radio dealers. Other products for the same purpose are bakelite, mica, mica and celcon.

This whole class of phenol products is often referred to mistakenly as bakelite, but as a matter of fact, bakelite is only one of a number of phenol condensation products, and the name refers only to the chemical with which the underlying material is impregnated and not to the finished radio product.

The use of phenol as an insulating material is comparatively new—dating back not more than ten or twelve years. The panels and tubes have many characteristics that are superior to the older insulating materials. They will not chip or crack like hard rubber and are therefore machined and worked much more easily and are not so breakable. They are better than vulcanized fibre because the latter will absorb moisture and rapidly lose insulating quality when wet.

The use of the extreme high frequency currents that are necessary in radio work requires as nearly perfect an insulation as possible.

Phenol insulation that is well made takes a very high polish, or by working with sandpaper can be given a very handsome satin finish. It is strong mechanically, does not chip or crack, and absorbs practically no moisture so it will retain its good looks and efficiency indefinitely.

The waste of natural gas in the United States is about half the production.

Approximately 4,500,000 tons of wheat feeds are produced annually by flour mills in the United States.

RADIO HEAD SETS TESTED WITH COINS

The telephone head receivers of a radio set are perhaps the most sensitive part of the apparatus.

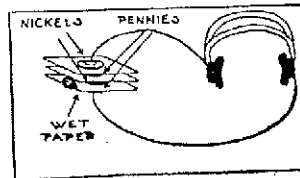

Whenever they are not in use, they should be hung up alongside the set, so as to avoid their being knocked off the table. Any kind of shock might cause injury to the delicate diaphragms of the ear-pieces.

These diaphragms vibrate at several thousand times a minute, when signals are being heard, and for this purpose they must be exact in every particular, to reproduce a voice or message accurately.

If, for any reason, the head set is believed to be damaged in any way, there is an easy way to test them.

Place a one-cent piece on the table and on that place a slightly larger piece of tissue paper that had previously been soaked in vinegar. On the wet paper place a five-cent coin. Then another vinegar-soaked paper, another cent piece and so on for four or six layers.

Place the head set over your ears, and take a tip of the telephone cord

HOW TO TEST HEAD SET

In each hand, touch one tip to the bottom coin, which should be a cent piece, and the other tip to the top coin—a nickel without any paper on it.

By holding the phone cord tip to the bottom coin and tapping the top nickel coin lightly with the other tip, a clicking noise will be heard if the receivers are in good condition. This noise is caused by the closing of an electrical circuit between the coins and the phones. The stack of coins and wet paper form a delicate electric generator.

The efficiency of the phones can be estimated from the amount of coins used in the stack. The lower the stack the better the phones.

RADIO PRIMER

Regeneration—The property of radio receiving circuit to "feed back" energy from the plate circuit to the grid, so as to amplify the original strength of the received signals. This method of amplification was invented by E. H. Armstrong, formerly a major in the United States Signal Corps. A circuit having the capacity for regeneration is called a "Regenerative, or Armstrong, circuit."

Quartermen at Oxford college have just reached the stage of having sliding seats in their boats.

The intrinsic value and enduring quality of the Special-Six have won for it the hearty endorsement of thousands of owners. It will win you, too, when you consider:

- its comfort—seat cushions of soft, genuine leather, nine inches deep; long semi-elliptic springs, front and rear. Seats five without crowding.
- its power—L-head motor, 3½ x 5, which develops 50 horsepower. Remarkable for its flexibility.
- its economy—low maintenance cost and infrequent repair shop attention.
- its beauty—body of harmonious lines built by Studebaker experts, with tailored top, which holds large plate glass rear window.
- its equipment—jeweled eight-day clock; one-piece, rainproof windshield with windshield wiper; tonneau light with extension cord; transmission lock which reduces rate of theft insurance to owner 15 to 20 per cent; one key locks tool compartment in left front door, ignition switch and transmission lock.
- its background—Studebaker's prestige and seventy years' experience in building quality vehicles assures complete satisfaction.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY TO END ALL WAR

TACOMA, Wash., May 9.—The convention of the national congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers' associations got down to business when Mrs. Milton P. Higgins of Massachusetts, national president, convened the executive committee. The first open meeting was held today.

Mrs. Higgins said the women have an exceptional opportunity to end war and she predicted that the association would enter actively into bringing about an era of permanent peace.

"The 10-year naval holiday," she declared, "is the great opportunity of the teachers and parents of America to end all war." She said that banishment of illiteracy was the great aim of the Parent Teachers' association and suggested that parents should receive special training to educate their children properly.

JOINT RECITAL AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Albert Edmund Brown, baritone, and William Heller, pianist, gave a most enjoyable joint recital at the State Normal school this afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Many of the school's friends joined with the pupils in listening to a rarely excellent afternoon's entertainment.

The recital opened with the rendition by Mr. Brown of a group of Schubert songs, which included such splendid numbers as "Who is Sylvia?" "Hark! Hark! the Lark!" and "Der Erlkönig," sung capably in his rich, baritone voice. His next group was of traditional ballads, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," "Loch Lomond," and "The Pretty Creature," all of which were rendered aptly and harmoniously. His American group, "At Parting," by Rogers; "Morning, Noon, and Night," by Rogers; "The Wreck of the Julie Plante," O'Hara; and "On the Road to Mandalay," Spenser, shared with the others in popularity.

Mr. Heller's selections at the piano were of a very high order, and received great applause. Particularly fine were "Rubinstein's 'Staccato Etude,'" "Tachmaninoff's 'Polichinelle,'" the Verdi-Liszt paraphrase of "Rigoletto" and Liszt's "La Campanella."

ROBERTSON WARNED BY SENATOR'S DAUGHTER

NEW YORK, May 9.—"The scheming of my family is getting on my nerves. I know that you are under surveillance in New Jersey and that you were under surveillance in Texas. Letters have been sent to my mother stating that you are an adventurer and fortune-seeker. You must be very careful and remember your promise not to do anything that might cause trouble to everybody."

So wrote Miss Mary Culberson, only daughter of Senator Charles A. Culberson of Texas, to Alec E. Robertson, the young British war veteran. Robertson charges, that following the discovery by Miss Culberson's family of their runaway, he was induced by threats made by three Burns' detectives to accompany them to Boston and permit them to arrange for his passage upon a boat for South America.

A copy of this letter, which reached Robertson at Bloomfield, N. J., April 6, shortly before the detectives called upon him, came out yesterday through persons interested in the case, but not through the young Britisher, who is averse to making public any communications he has received from Miss Culberson.

With other correspondence it will be laid by him before officials of the British embassy at Washington as corroborative evidence of the young man's charge, upon which, it was stated authoritatively yesterday, his government will make an investigation.

It was learned yesterday that certain powerful, unseen interests already are working in Robertson's behalf, and that a strong demand will be made for a congressional investigation. A committee of the house will be asked to take up the charge that Burns detectives represented to Robertson they were operatives of the department of justice, of which William J. Burns is now the head.

Miss Culberson's affection for Robertson is reported to have cooled within the last few days.

WORKERS ACCEPT ARBITRATION PLAN

BOSTON, May 9.—The Lynn joint council of the United Shoe Workers of America last night voted to accept the arbitration plan of Mayor McPherson in the dispute between the shoe manufacturers and their employees over a proposed wage reduction.

Under the mayoral proposition an arbitration board composed of one representative of the union, one of the manufacturers and a chairman to be selected jointly by the two members would be appointed to go into the whole question of wages and hours and frame a new agreement to replace the one that expired on May 1.

The Manufacturers' association is expected to announce its attitude on the matter tomorrow.

LOWELL CASES IN CAMBRIDGE COURT

William J. Sternberg, gentleman burglar, arrested here recently by Officers Spillane and Liston at an early hour in the morning when he was caught in the act of robbing offices in the Donovan building, was yesterday sentenced to nine months in the house of correction in superior court, East Cambridge.

Harry Sass and Joseph Salvia, also arrested on charges of breaking and entering in the night time into a Palace street barber shop were sentenced to the Concord reformatory.

"National Disabled Soldiers' Week"

WASHINGTON, May 9.—President Harding and the state governors will be asked to set aside the week May 28 to June 3, as "National disabled soldiers' week" Samuel J. EXHAUSTED NERVE FORCE CAUSES THOUSANDS TO MAKE FAILURES IN LIFE

—Doctor Tells What To Do

When your nerve force becomes weakened, all the vital organs of your body lose their normal strength and vigor, and as a result, all kinds of alarming symptoms may appear, such as nervous irritability, heart palpitation, indigestion, pains in the front or in the back of the head, more especially at the base of the brain, and a general weakened, run-down condition. In such cases, it is worse than foolish to waste your time taking stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs. Your starving nerve cells must have more nerve force, the same as a starving person must have food. This is best accomplished by increasing the activity and power of the nerve force-making organs, the principal one of which is the blood. This can be quickly and most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron, which not only increases the activity of the blood-making organs, but it feeds true red blood food directly to the blood itself, thereby helping to create millions of new red blood cells. This wonderfully increases the power of the blood to help manufacture new nerve force, the same as enriching the soil increases its power to grow more wheat, corn or oats.

If you are suffering from nerve force exhaustion, you can quickly and easily prove to yourself the power of Nuxated Iron to help overcome your condition and make you strong and vigorous again by the following simple test. Make a written memorandum of all your symptoms before you start, then at the end of two weeks, go over your symptoms again and place a check mark after any that are left, and you can at once see what it has done for you. If you have not obtained most surprising results, all and even more than you expected, the manufacturer will promptly refund your money.—Adv.

Expedition for Salvaging Lusitania and Other Ships to Start May 25

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—An expedition for salvaging the Lusitania and other ships that have gone to the bottom of the ocean in the last few years will start from this city May 25. The steamship Blakeley has been chartered for the purpose by the Lusitania Salvaging Co. Estimates of gold that lies at the bottom of the sea run into the millions. A single passenger was said to have deposited $75,000 with the purser of the Lusitania, while Miss Antoine de Page, wife of the medical director of the Belgian Red Cross, was reported to have carried more than $100,000.

ADVERTISING BEFORE BAR OF ANALYSIS

By JOSEPH H. DEFREES
President, the United States Chamber of Commerce

Popular opinion today appears to be more and more insistent that industry should not add to the burdens of the consumer. The man in the street is questioning from an economic standpoint, as never before, all phases of producing, selling and distributing.

He inclines to question a process in business methods or an incident of service and in this study of bartering and marketing he will direct more and more attention to one of the prime factors in distribution, namely, advertising. This mass-selling is a tremendous economic force and has played a great part in our industrial development of the last decade. When it stands before the bar of present day analysis, it should be able to defend itself against all criticism. First, it should be morally clean. It should command public confidence because of its truthfulness and under-statement rather than by exaggerated selling talk. Clean, because it will not help sell a commodity to other families that would not be recommended to the advertiser's own family.

In the second place, it should be able to defend itself on economic grounds. A good deal is being said about tremendous advertising appropriations adding to the burdens of the consumer. Advertising should make sure that this charge will not stick; that wherever it is used it cuts out waste in distribution, allows quantity production and ultimately gives the consumer a better product at a better price.

It was understood to be the purpose of the president to urge passage of the bill during the present session of congress.

$12,000 IN JEWELRY STOLEN FROM CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Jewelry valued at $12,000 was stolen last night from an exhibit maintained by Shreve & Co., in a hotel lobby.

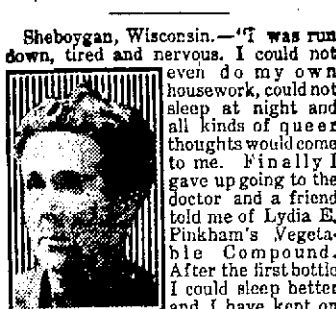

Four pieces of jewelry, all of diamonds set in platinum, were taken. The length of the thief's arm apparently limited the haul, as other jewelry in the case valued at more than $30,000 was not touched.

The thief had loosened and then removed a small glass section in the side of the case. He is believed to have worked for days at odd moments loosening the pane.

Fifteen thousand persons lost their lives in fire in the United States during the last year.

QUEER FEELINGS AT MIDDLE AGE

Women Should Know How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps at This Trying Period

Sheboygan, Wisconsin.—"I was run down, tired and nervous. I could not even do my own housework, could not sleep at night and all kinds of queer thoughts would come to me. Finally I gave up going to the doctor and a friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After the first bottle I could sleep better and I have kept on improving ever since. I have taken seven bottles now and am so happy that I am all over these bad feelings."—Mrs. B. LANSER, 1639 N. 3rd St., Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

For the woman entering middle age Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can be of much benefit. During this time of life certain changes take place which sometimes develop into serious trouble.

Melancholia, nervousness, irritability, headache and dizziness are some of the symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a natural restorative, especially adapted to assist nature in carrying you safely past this time. Why not give it a fair trial?

BAD BREATH Comes from Biliousness

So does a bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, dull headache, and unhealthy yellowish skin. These symptoms all tell the story of a disordered system and your immediate need of a purely vegetable corrective to prevent infection and a sick spell.

The Following Letter From Mrs. Dugan, of Waltham, Mass., Describes Suffering That Many a Woman Has Experienced

"Being a dressmaker, working very steady, I have been tired out and exhausted. In the morning I was more tired than when going to bed at night. I got so that I had no ambition and courage. My back bothered me; my kidneys were in very bad condition. I had pains in my knees and ankles. Nothing seemed to help me. I took several medicines, but all failed. At last I decided to try Sarsal. It has done wonders for me. With just one bottle, I feel better every way, so I am going to keep on with it until I am well, for I am convinced that it is the best health builder on the market."

STEEL BUSINESS BOOMS

Payroll Goes Over $4,000,000 Mark for First Time in Twelve Months

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, May 8.—For the first time in 12 months, the monthly payroll of this steel center has gone above the four million dollar mark. Figures made public by bankers today gave $4,070,000 as the April payroll, a half million dollars greater than the total for the month previous. The record payroll here was more than $2,000,000, made in 1919, when wages were double the present scales.

NEW MOTORCYCLES FOR POLICE DEPARTMENT

The city purchasing agent today opened bids to supply the police department with five new motorcycles, taking five used cars in exchange. George H. Batchelder, bidding on Indiana, proposed to furnish the machines for $519 each, without sidecars, and $577 each with sidecars, with a total allowance of $525 for the old cars.

Edward J. Bellerose, bidding on a Harley-Davidson, submitted proposals of $530.25 each, with sidecars and a total allowance of $700 for the old cars.

Acting Supr. MacBrayne said this noon that while he had favored a solo type of machine, inasmuch as the men who comprise the motorcycle squad favor machines equipped with sidecars, that combination will be purchased.

An unusual difference in bids was found on a proposal to supply hardware, including rolls, drills, coils, etc., for the school department. The Thompson Hardware Co. bid $100 for the lot, while W. T. S. Bartlett bid $42.25.

WEALTHY HOTEL MAN KILLS GIRL AND HIMSELF

JOLIET, Ill., May 8.—Robert M. McRobert, a wealthy hotel owner, shot and killed Miss Mabel Kerwin, formerly his secretary, and then killed himself here yesterday.

A few weeks ago Miss Kerwin resigned, after six years in Mr. McRobert's employ. Since that time, according to her mother, McRobert has cut scores of times, asking her to return. She has refused to have anything to do with him.

Yesterday morning, he again came to the Kerwin apartments, but Miss Kerwin refused to speak to him in the hall or to let him come into her home. However, she agreed to go down stairs to the lobby with him.

They had barely reached the ground floor when neighbors heard two shots. They found the two lying on the floor, McRobert dying and the girl dead. McRobert was married and had a 10-year-old son.

WOMAN MUST PAY $100,000 IN LOVE CASE

NEW YORK, May 8.—A sheriff's jury yesterday returned a verdict for $100,000 damages against Mrs. Fay Burken, mother of eight children, and a grandmother, for the alienation of the affections of Edward Goldberg, husband of Sally Goldberg, 27 years old, charging that her husband's affections first turned to Mrs. Burken in 1920. Goldberg was away, supposedly on a business trip, she said, when her daughter, 7 years old, became ill. She went with her to Atlantic City and there found her husband and Mrs. Burken frolicking on the beach, she declared. Mrs. Burken interposed no defense to the suit. Sheriff Nagle, presiding over the jury, directed them to fix damages. They reached their verdict in five minutes for absolute divorce from Goldberg has been filed by his wife.

INVOLUNTARY PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY

BOSTON, May 8.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today against George A. Haskell and Henry Nicholas, co-partners in the firm of George A. Haskell & Co., members of the Boston stock exchange whose suspension was announced yesterday. Claims aggregating $45,527 were filed by three local creditors who asserted that this sum was due them on margin trading accounts. No statement of liabilities or assets was made, but it has been announced to creditors that claims aggregate $315,000 and assets $128,000. Speculation by a member of the firm and overhead charges were said to account for the losses. An offer of settlement on a basis of 25 cents on the dollar has been made. The principal creditor, Allen Arnold, with a claim for $61,000 growing out of his sale of the Boston stock exchange seat and the good will of the business recently. This seat and the business for many years were held by Thomas W. Lawson and Arnold in partnership.

SIR JOHN LEIGH GOES TO PARLIAMENT

LONDON, May 8.—Sir John Leigh, coalition-unionist, was elected by acclamation yesterday as member of parliament for the Clapham division of Wandsworth, the seat left vacant by the retirement of Sir Arthur Du Gros, coalition-unionist.

ERUPTION OF MUD GEYSERS IN SALT SEA

EL CENTRO, Cal., May 8.—A spectacular eruption of the mud geysers in Salt sea, near here, sent mud, smoke and steam 200 feet into the air, according to the report here today of a number of persons who witnessed the phenomenon. The eruption came without warning and continued 20 minutes.

Working Out New Formula

Belgians will have difficulty in maintaining their opposition to the memorandum, but if it should prove highly non-conciliatory, Prime Minister Lloyd George's position will become untenable and the conference will be in danger of immediate disruption. The Russian delegation this morning summoned a large staff of typists, who began copying the response, which it was expected would be delivered before the day was over. Foreign Minister Tschitcherine and his associates insist that the reply is a conciliatory attitude. It is felt may differ radically from what the French or even the British would characterize by this term. The Russians, it is forecast, will be firm in their opposition to the new clause of the allied memorandum, which forbids their agitation against changes in the present territorial boundaries and insists that they shall suppress all attempts in their territory to assist revolutionary movements in their states. The Soviet representatives take this as an attempt to limit all communist activity throughout the world and is regarded by the Bolsheviks as a direct thrust at the third international, which maintains its headquarters in Moscow.

Lloyd George Optimistic

GENOA, May 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Lloyd George today to another day of uncertainty. Premier Lloyd George was optimistic that the conference could be saved, but pessimism prevailed in most quarters.

Belgium is the center around which turns the new controversy over the Russian question. It is her objection to clause seven in the allied memorandum to the Russians behind which France is standing in her opposition to the memorandum. Consequently all eyes in Genoa are on Belgium and on M. Jaspar, foreign minister and chairman of the Belgian delegation. The question raised by Belgium about clause seven has two aspects. M. Jaspar said, "On one side it is a question of principle concerning respect for and protection of private property abroad. The other side concerns the economic restoration of Russia by reviving the industry of that country."

"Belgium invested two and a half billions of francs, gold, in Russian industry, and possessed 351 factories. We used to produce in Russia before the war 42 per cent of the foundry output of the entire world, 48 per cent of the steel rolls, 50 per cent of the chemical products, 50 per cent of the glass tableware and 30 per cent of the window glass."

"No other country is as prepared as Belgium to restore Russia if the latter returns to the former Belgian proprietors their old possessions. Money will again pour into Russia. Belgian industrialists already have a billion francs laid aside to restore their industries there."

"In clause seven, Belgium admitted a formula which allowed for nationalization of property in Russia on condition that its use should be granted to the old proprietors, or when this was impossible, compensation be given them."

WILLS OF MR. AND MRS. POWELL FILED

CAMBRIDGE, May 8.—The wills of William B. Powell and of his wife, Lena Elizabeth Powell, formerly Mrs. R. H. White, were filed for probate here yesterday. Powell shot and killed his wife in their summer home in the Chestnut Hill district, Newton, on May 2, and then committed suicide. Powell, who was manager in this district for R. G. Dun and Co., left the bulk of his estate to his daughter, Mrs. Province Hall, Pogue of New York city, with the provision that if she had not reached the age of 30 years at the time of his death, the estate be made into a trust fund until she reached the required age.

Had he lived, Pogue predeceased him, the estate was to have gone to his nephews and nieces, the children of his two sisters, Margaret Thomson and Jane Marion MacDonnell of Toronto.

Mrs. Powell in her will provided that one-half of her estate should go to her brother, William B. Hebbard of Brookline, and two sisters, Maud A. Hardy and Frances Udall, in equal parts. The other half of the estate was left to her husband and it was provided that in the event of his death it was to be divided among five nephews and nieces.

$200,000 LOSS

Fire Wrecks Des Moines Newspaper Plant

DES MOINES, Ia., May 8.—Fire starting in the paper storage room of the Des Moines News today wrecked the newspaper plant and most of the News Arcade building. Loss to the News plant was estimated at $200,000. The News will publish at the office of another newspaper temporarily.

Steam was first applied to industrial purposes about 1750.

$90,000 for Central Bridge Reconstruction

cost approximately $2500 to repair the wearing surface of the bridge in spots where the cement has not turned out satisfactorily for one cause or another. Under the contract the city has paid to date $45,830.85, leaving $10,862.25 paid under the head of extras.

An investigation into the entire bridge matter was launched late yesterday by the board of public service. In conference with Professor Louis B. Moore, consulting engineer and Mayor George J. Brown.

When Prof. Moore estimated it would cost $2500 for repairing the surface, the question arose again as to whether the city or the construction company should bear his expense and Prof. Moore reiterated his belief that it should properly be charged to the Engineering Service & Construction Co. for the reason that if the work had been promptly done, no concentration of traffic would have occurred in winter months and that the surface would not have been damaged.

The bridge matter was gone over thoroughly yesterday by the board in an endeavor to get it out of the way and completed as soon as possible.

The contract of the Engineering Service & Construction company will not be finished until the underground is gunned with a coating at least one inch in thickness and the wearing surface for the entire length of the bridge along the inside street car rails must be repaired. It was Professor Moore's suggestion that gunning be employed for this work also, to be done by experts, with the question of expense to be decided upon later. He estimated that the cement-shooting process would cost about $2500. Mr. Moore was asked to put his recommendations in writing and Mayor Brown expressed the feeling that they should be carried out at the earliest possible time.

In response to a request from the high school building commission for a conference on the matter of sidewalks and approaches to the new school building, it was voted to set a date for such a conference at a later meeting, probably on Thursday afternoon of this week.

The following petitions were referred for hearings at the next general street and sewer hearing of the board, the date to be set later: Jo-

Protest From Mesopotamia

GENOA, May 8.—(By the Associated Press) Representatives of King Faisal of the Iraq region (Mesopotamia) presented to the conference today a memorandum claiming the independence of Syria and Lebanon and protesting against the French occupation. The Syrians maintain that France, under the pretext of a mandate, is trying to colonize Syria as she has done with Algeria and Tunis, and that the same thing is being done by England in Mesopotamia and Palestine. The memorandum declares the Syrians have proved quite capable of governing themselves.

Refuses to Sign Terms

BAGDAD, May 8.—King Faisal has refused to sign terms presented to him by the British high commissioner, intended to prohibit demonstrations against the British mandate over Mesopotamia.

In addition he has decreed the organization of a constitutional assembly which is intended to have final say in the management of the country's affairs, both internal and external.

"Mesopotamia's relations with other countries," said a proclamation by the king, "will from now on be based on such principles as those upon which all independent states are entitled. We Arabs hate to submit to any foreign authority. We formerly hated the Turks, and we are not going to accept another bondage now."

Great Unrest in Country

All this is indicative of the great unrest which prevails throughout the country.

Another disturbing factor has been the refusal of the high commissioner to replace Indian officials with natives in accordance with agreement.

The differences between the king and the commissioner are regarded as serious, and rumors are heard that England is sending a large military force to assure control of the country.

Agitation is at a high pitch, and frequent meetings are held at which the cry is heard: "Down with the mandate. Long live independent Mesopotamia."

Teachers' Examination

Office of the Superintendent of Schools, Lowell, Mass., May 2, 1922.

On Saturday, June 24, 1922, at the Lowell high school, Kirk and Anna Street, beginning at nine o'clock in the forenoon, there will be public examination of applicants for Lowell teachers' certificates of the third grade. These certificates apply to the primary and grammar grades of the schools.

JAIL SENTENCES FOR SMUGGLERS

Rum-Running Too Profitable

Head of Vermont Anti-Saloon League Urges Action to

Quebec Premier Estimates
Liquor Traffic Will Wipe
Out Debt in 20 Years

SPRINGFIELD, Vt., May 8.—Liquor smuggling from the province of Quebec into Vermont is on the increase and the inflow this summer will be great unless every smuggler caught has the maximum sentence imposed, Rev. Clement G. Clarke, head of the Vermont Anti-Saloon league told delegates to the State Congregational conference, which opened here today. Clerical and lay delegates from 200 churches in the state were in attendance which Judge Frank L. Fish of Vergennes called the conference to order.

Declaring that a careful investigation of the rum-running business over the Canadian border had shown that we have under-estimated not over-estimated the amount of incoming liquor," Rev. Mr. Clarke, who is pastor of the First Congregational church here, asserted that prison sentences must be imposed on smugglers as fines would not stop smuggling.

"The smuggling business," he said, "is too profitable to feel the handicap of an occasional fine."

"What do you think of the calm proposal of the premier of Quebec, who, claiming a profit of four millions a year and admitting that 84 per cent of the liquor was sold to people outside the province, suggests that the government should devote two millions of this to education, one million to good roads, and the other million towards liquidating the school debt?"

"He calculated that in 20 years the liquor traffic would wipe out the entire provincial indebtedness."

"Stop the smuggling from Quebec into Vermont with prison sentences and you will interrupt this little plan of our benevolent neighbor."

"LONE WOLF" IS CAUGHT IN HUB

Neeley Johnson, Sought for Three Years, Admits
Scores of Thefts

Called One of the Greatest and Most Daring of All Burglars

BOSTON, May 8.—The "Lone Wolf," the master burglar, robber, second store worker, and human fly, sought for three years by the police of almost every city in Eastern New England, and characterized by police officials throughout the state as one of the greatest and most daring of all burglars, a human dynamo, with a wit faster than that of a Philadelphia lawyer, has been caught.

At first he refused to give his name. Later he told the police he was Neeley Johnson, 22 years of age, of 1317 Fitz Water street, Philadelphia. He was questioned and permitted to go to sleep after refusing to talk.

Yesterday he was positively identified. Officials from a dozen towns and cities, all armed with scores of warrants for his arrest, arrived at Boston police headquarters, where Johnson was taken in the chief's car, handcuffed to Lieutenant Sittler. He then made a clean breast of it all. Despite a bombardment of questions from the different officers he remained calm and collected. Smoking a cigarette, he paused and weighed every question thrown at him. He answered every one in a slow, deliberate way, and appeared confident of everything he said.

He admitted the breaks committed in Cambridge. He admitted the breaks committed in Brookline, Lexington, Newton, Arlington, Belmont and other cities and towns he visited throughout New England. He told the police how he had worked and how easy he had found it to escape after ransacking the homes of the wealthy residents he forced his way into.

Caught Up $7000 in Cambridge
When questioned by Lieutenant Nelson of the Cambridge police he admitted having stolen articles during his raid on the houses throughout the Brattle street section the value of which he estimated to be about $7000. He informed the police that while committing a break he did not know just what part of the city he was working in. Sometimes he would act as lookout while his confederate forced his way into the house, while most times he assumed the responsibility of entering alone.

Fourteen different houses in the exclusive section of Cambridge were entered by the lone thief himself within two weeks. Lost estimated at several thousands of dollars was taken. The thief climbed water spouts, flower trellises and borrowed ladders to get through open windows in the many houses he entered. His ability to climb buildings was proven a number of times when it was learned that he had entered through a window on the second floor of a house without the aid of a ladder.

JOFFRE THANKS AMERICA

This Country Outdid All
Others in Warmth of Greeting During Trip

PARIS, May 9 (by the Associated Press).—Marshal Joffre spent the first morning after his return to France from his world tour at the war college greeting friends. He will be received by President Millerand and Premier Poincare later in the week. Speaking to the Associated Press, he said: "Throughout my 30,000 miles of travel, I everywhere received a most cordial welcome, but it remained for America to outdo every other country in warmth of greeting."

"I was the recipient of boundless hospitality from your gracious president and your generous people. Madame Joffre said she had kept a diary during the entire journey around the globe, but that events in the United States came so thick and fast she did not have time to record them."

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Anyone looking for a good laugh has only to drop into the Merrimack Square theatre and take one long look at Johnny Hines in "Burn 'Em Up Barnes," the headline of a show of unusual merit. Even the great and only Charlie Chaplin, who is playing in "Pay Day," is a bit crowded for honors when Johnny starts to flatter on the screen. Elaine Hammerstein in "Reckless Youth" rounds out the program.

Hines is pictured as the son of a wealthy man, born with a silver spoon in his mouth. He goes to his club toward the reckless and he seems to care little for his father's attempts to make him walk the straight and narrow.

Coming into the office late one day his father promptly tells him he is fired. Johnny leaves the office in anger and tells his father that he will leave the city. He goes to his club and meets a friend. The friend convinces him that the best thing to do is to go home and cool off.

With this in mind he starts home in his racing auto. He is held up, relieved of his money, his good clothes and after being knocked unconscious is tossed into a freight car. King Cole, a hobo, and him, brings him to and takes the dazed youth in charge.

The pair are thrown out of the freight car by a trainman and find a small town. There Johnny begs food from a nice looking girl. In fact he lives her so well he is reluctant to leave the town. His courtship is full of funny little incidents.

The girl's brother is a teller in a bank and is taking small sums of money to give to his wife's brother who has recently returned from jail. Finally a gang appears and it is planned to rob the bank with the teller working as inside man.

In the meantime, Johnny, who has rescued a girl from death, is unable to find the mother and a charge of kidnapping is placed against him. He is thrown into jail. His father, finding out of his plight through a detective, starts out in the son's racing car to rescue him from jail.

The raid on the bank follows, with the uncle attempting to get out of town using an auto road race as a means to hiding their hurried exit.

Johnny is rescued from jail and starts out after the robbers. He is successful in their capture and returns to the girl.

The Chaplin reel is also a big laugh-producer and shows the awkward-footed comedian in some really funny stunts. Miss Hammerstein is pictured as a reckless girl who is unable to bear the strict discipline of her grandparents with whom she goes to live.

She runs away from home and leads a wild life until injured in an auto accident which brings her back to earth and common sense again.

H. P. KEMP'S THEATRE

There is a girl at Kemp's this week whom you will not enthrall over at the start but by the end of the act, you will join with your neighbors in according her one of the finest demonstrations of appreciation given any performer who has visited the local vaudeville house this season.

She is Ruth Budd, a singer, singer and vocalist, principally the first named. She is headlined and rightly so, for her work stamps her as far above the ordinary and several times the cleverness and magnetism form a triple-coated combination hard to equal. Her very first entrance is novel and once she appears the speed of the act rapidly increases until at the climax it is wheeling along at a rate that fairly will make you gasp.

She comes on, or rather she comes out, as a singer of songs. What appears to be a piano lamp, really is a box in which she is hiding. The sides fall down and she steps from there to the top of the piano and there sings over her first song. Another song follows, this time sung from the stage. Then she dances, then she appears in a picture frame playing a steel guitar and then her act really begins. The full stage is used. Her work on the flying rings and swinging rope is wonderful and is topped off by a lightning lead-in to the most athletic of the rope to which inches of the door.

Worthy of second mention is the team of Joe Rome and Lou Gaut. One is exceedingly tall and angular, while the other is short and round. They are shorter in stature than his playmate. They judiciously mix comedy with eccentric dancing that is of a particularly good kind.

Other acts on the bill include Jewell and Raymond, juvenile entertainers. Dolly Kay, expert in syncopation; Eddie Swartz and Julia Clifford, with the former purveying a snappy line of nonsensical chatter; Paul Gordon and Anne Rice, a big bicycle act and the Brightons, who make artistic pictures and portraits out of mere rags.

An added feature the theatre is showing Charlie Chaplin's latest comedy picture, "Pay Day."

Pathe News, Topics of the Day and an Ascan Pablo, "The Boy and His Dog," round out the bill.

THE STRAND THEATRE

For variety and quality the program at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week is one that cannot be excelled. A powerful drama, a comedy-drama, and a real comedy form the nucleus of the bill and with such artists as Nazimova, Jean Paige and Charlie Chaplin performing, there is all one can expect.

Nazimova appears in "A Doll's House," her first independent production, while Jean Paige is being featured in "The Prodigal Judge." Charlie Chaplin makes his appearance here in "Pay Day," his latest screen screen.

"A Doll's House" is from the pen of Ibsen, a noted playwright who was criticized considerably for his advanced ideas of woman's rights, but the real interpretation of the play has given it a high standard among moral plays and it has proven to be a sketch that is finding favor among the members of the fair sex, while it is also being well received by the menfolk. It is a direct appeal to every woman and every girl, for its moral stands out as the strongest lesson ever taught. It deals with a woman who for years although idolized by her husband, has been his toy-wife, as most of her time is devoted in cheering him with her musical and dancing talent. Although the mother of several children, she is looked upon as a plaything and never given an opportunity to develop her own individuality. The day of the climax comes, however, and that is when the young woman's action in forging her father's name into the deed of her own individuality. As the young wife, Nazimova makes a wonderfully interesting and appealing character. She is being supported by her own individuality. As the young wife, Nazimova makes a wonderfully interesting and appealing character. She is being supported by her own individuality.

"The Prodigal Judge" is a love story of unusual interest, a story full of action. It deals with a young woman, whose husband is killed on the day of their marriage by a rejected suitor. Later the young widow, whose interests and safety are being menaced by a gang of thugs hired by the murderer, and taken away on a raft boat. The three guardians, who are called, follow up a clue which leads them to the young woman's "prison" and what follows, particularly their own, is marvelous. It is most interesting, there is just enough comedy in the play to make it very pleasing.

In his latest production, "Pay Day," Charlie Chaplin is a scream. He is even better than before. He goes through stunts that are amazing and produces a laugh every time he winks or moves. As the story in "Pay Day," that at yesterday afternoon's performance a woman went into hysteria, Charlie is an original character on the screen, but more so, his newest play, and he has a way of his own of amusing his audiences. Please the boy and girl and take them to the Strand to see Charlie this evening or tomorrow.

The program also includes a series of current event pictures that are very interesting, while the musical selections add greatly to the general enjoyment of the entire bill.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

It is a pity that Mark Twain died before the near-perfect screen productions of "Tuckleberry Plan," "Tom Sawyer" and "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" were given to the public. His comments would be well worth reading. The latter picture is to come to the Merrimack Square theatre for a four days' engagement beginning next Sunday and indications point to a most successful run of the noted classic.

Man's Work Is Inferior to Nature's in "Man from Home"

EDNA PURVIANCE, ONCE CHAPLIN'S LEADING WOMAN, SHE IS NOW A STAR IN HER OWN NAME

By JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, May 9.—The screen version of "The Man From Home" is a drab play against a scintillant background. It is an exposition of the handiwork of God, beside which the crude artifices of human puppets pass with bare notice.

If you are able to take your eyes from the beautiful scenery George Fitzmaurice has trapped with the camera, you are aware that one of those trite old plots of an American hero winning his girl against the odds of little and social prestige is being enacted in a lackadaisical manner.

Far vistas of the Italian Riviera, Naples, Sorrento and other beautiful spots thrill and amaze you. There is pictorial art that has seldom been equaled on the screen, even by the Bruce scenes.

The play itself is lightened with a bit of comedy by James Kirkwood, the only one of the cast to do effective work except Dorothy Cumming, who fits her lampish bit.

But for the greater length of the film the unwinding of the story is tedious, the flashes of scenery coming as

TWO PICKED UP AT SEA

Men Weak From Hunger and Exposure Found by Sheerest Accident

NORFOLK, Va., May 9.—Picked up by sheerest accident after they had drifted five days without food or water in a half-sunken launch, B. J. Gardner and J. G. Truitt of Miami, Fla., were landed here yesterday by the schooner Harry G. Deering. The men had burned their clothing for distress signals when found and were weak from hunger and exposure. Leaving Miami April 20 to try out the boat—a former sub-chaser purchased from the navy—Gardner and Truitt were only a short distance from their home port when they found their craft was leaking badly. The water soon put the engine out of commission. Many vessels passed, they said, but none heeded their signals. Last Thursday night the Deering crashed into the half-submerged launch.

FRATERNAL NEWS

At a regular meeting of Gen. Adelbert Ames camp, 19, U.S.W.V., held last evening with Commander Conrith in the chair, the committee in charge of arrangements for the Memorial day observance reported progress in its plans. Two new members were mustered into the camp and routine business was transacted. In the latter part of the meeting Comrade Alexander McFowen of Lincoln camp, 41, Springfield, Ill., made an inspiring address. There were remarks by members of the camp and the meeting was brought to a close with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the assembly.

Integrity Lodge

A largely attended meeting of Integrity lodge, I.O.O.F.M.U., was held last evening in Odd Fellows' building, Middlesex street. N.G. Earle Fuesen occupied the chair. One application for membership was received and routine business was transacted. In the course of the meeting P.G.M. George W. Emsley was elected an honorary member of the lodge. There were remarks by P.S. Fred Silk, N.G. Earle Fuesen, Treasurer George Chase, W. Emsley, E. G. George E. Mackley and G.M. Edward Black.

"I've forgotten we have a garbage can"

"I used to dread to lift the lid of the garbage can. It was the only housekeeping duty I ever thoroughly disliked. And besides, Dr. Bell's lecture at our Civic Club on Home Sanitation made me realize how dangerous to family health unprotected garbage receptacles can be. He explained how germ-carrying flies breed there so rapidly.

"That's how I discovered Sylpho-Nathol, or rather, Clara Peabody discovered it for me. She had been using it for a long time in her house.

"I wouldn't think of using anything else," she said, when I talked to her. "We have tried so many other things. Not one of them was nearly so satisfactory. They either had a perfectly horrid smell or were poisonous, or were so bothersome to mix."

"Sylpho-Nathol is different. It is so easy to prepare—one teaspoonful in a quart of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution that is ready for immediate use.

"Sylpho-Nathol is sure—just rinse out the garbage can with the solution, sprinkle it in every day, and the flies won't come near.

"Sylpho-Nathol is safe—4½ times stronger than carbolic acid—yet no more dangerous to have in the house than a cake of scouring soap.

"Sylpho-Nathol has so many important household uses—for mop water that destroys germs; for sprinkling in dark, musty-smelling corners; as a flush for closet bowls and for wiping around bathroom floors and fixtures—in fact wherever absolutely germ-free, odorless cleanliness is desired.

"Sylpho-Nathol is efficient, easy to use and economical. It comes in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. If you have never used it, phone your grocer to include a bottle in your order. Either he or your druggist can supply you. If not, he can get it easily. Ask for it by the name—'Sylpho-Nathol.'"

PASSED WORTHLESS CHECK

A warning is issued by local police for persons to be on the lookout for a bogus check-worker who passed a worthless check in this city yesterday. The amount of the check was $12.50 and was signed by A. B. Fairchild. It was drawn on the Federal Reserve bank of Providence. The man is described as being about 30 years old, 6 feet in height. He wore a brown coat, blue trousers, a soft black hat and a black necktie.

"NO TRESPASSING"

Members of the Lowell Christian Endeavor union last night presented "No Trespassing," at the Y.M.C.A. under the capable leadership of Mrs. Lillian Dodge Haskell. The piece is a comedy in three acts and was admirably given by an excellent cast that included Madeleine Plinkham, Rena Hatch, Carle Stewart, Dorothy Adams, Ruth Clough, Arthur Thompson, Harold Bishop, Joseph Hollingsworth, Leonard Fish, Elton Silk and Oswald Coburn.

The last census showed that there were 4500 Indians living in Oregon at that time.

JAILED FOR HAVING INDECENT PICTURES

NEW YORK, May 9.—Charged with possessing indecent pictures and literature, Lorenzo Dow Covington, of Covington, Ky., 60-year-old Egyptologist and lecturer, who was at one time suggested as a United States consul, was sent to jail yesterday for six months.

Covington was said to have appeared as a lecturer in most of the big cities of the country and was reported to have been a member of the Royal Government Society of England, proposed by the late Sir Ernest Shackleton.

"You appear to have a Doctor Jekyll and Mr. Hyde personality," said Judge Herbert as Covington was sentenced. "One side of your brain appears to be of high mental calibre, while the other is low and degenerate."

Covington was arrested on complaint of the New York Society for Suppression of Vice. John S. Sumner, secretary of the organization and successor to Anthony Comstock, declared Covington had aided the society to convict several others of the same charge, until it developed that most of those convicted got their pictures and books from him.

For the last six years he has been delivering lectures for the board of education here.

LLOYD GEORGE DENIES BREAK WITH FRANCE

GENOA, May 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Lloyd George himself appeared yesterday afternoon at a meeting which had been arranged for the British and American correspondents, apparently for the purpose chiefly of denying reports appearing in British and French papers that Mr. Lloyd George and M. Barthou came near the breaking point Saturday and that the British prime minister had virtually announced that the entente was finished and that France and England must go their separate ways.

Mr. Lloyd George declared that the differences between him and M. Barthou in no sense constituted a break between the allies and that the stenographic record of their conversation did not disclose any such statements as attributed to him. This record, however, was not available to the correspondents, and Mr. Lloyd George did not comply with the suggestion that it be shown to the press.

He reiterated the statement that the Genoa conference may mark a turning point in European history, and asserted that success or failure depends largely on the attitude the Russians take in their reply to the allied memorandum, and that consideration of the non-aggressive peace and continuation of the negotiations were contingent on the nature of the Russian reply.

If the Russian delegation answers today, as seems likely, he said it would require at least another day for the powers signatory to the Russian memorandum to exchange views and two or three days for the experts to discuss the reply. If the Russian reply was a categorical "no," which, in the opinion of the premier, did not seem possible, then it would be difficult to continue the discussions with the Russians.

To the question as to whether there would be a probationary period before actual de jure recognition, in case an agreement was reached, he answered affirmatively, but did not indicate how long the period would be.

Speaking of clause seven of the Russian memorandum which relates to property in Russia of foreigners, and on which France and Belgium base their opinion, he expressed that the clause was compiled by three of the world's best jurists. Fromageot, France; Catlier, Belgium, and Hurst, England, all of whom approved the text. It also was accepted by all countries except Belgium. France was even permitted to make a special amendment to the clause before she accepted it.

ASSOCIATED HARVARD CLUBS' MEETING

Robert F. Herrick, president of the Harvard club of Boston, which will be the host for the 24th annual meeting of the Associated Harvard clubs at Boston and Cambridge on June 16 and 17, says: "Don't miss it; it will be a reunion never to be forgotten!"

All living Harvard men have been invited. Fully 2000 are coming, and it may get up to 3700, or an even ten per cent. of the living Harvard men, for acceptances continue strong day after day.

Under the heading, "Important Notice," the Boston committee cordially extends the invitation: "Every man who has attended any department of Harvard university, either graduate school or academic course, is not only eligible but welcome, and is urged to attend this meeting, whether or not a member of a Harvard club."

Fleischmann's fresh yeast

helps digestion and cleans a coated tongue

THOUSANDS of men and women have found relief from various digestive disturbances by eating Fleischmann's Yeast.

It is human nature to want to find out "why." So far as science can tell us this is the reason:

Fleischmann's Yeast is a food abundant in certain elements which are necessary to health and life itself. It promotes the flow of bile and of pancreatic juice. It has a remarkably beneficial effect on the whole digestive system. It cleans a coated tongue.

Try Fleischmann's fresh yeast in orange juice or, if you prefer, in milk. Men like it in milk: shakes and malted milks. Women like it spread on bread or crackers.

Keep your digestion in the pink of condition and your tongue clean and healthy by eating 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast fresh every day before or between meals. Get Fleischmann's Yeast fresh daily from your grocer.

Adventures of the Twins

VALLEY OF THE CIRCUS

"OH, LOOK! THERE ARE THE BIG TENTS RIGHT AHEAD OF US!"

The seventh valley was called the Valley of the Circus.

"There isn't a bit of use in me trying to tell you not to stay here," said the boys who were guiding them. "One might just as well tell a fish to stay out of the water."

"Why?" asked Nancy.

"Because a circus stays here, when it isn't travelling around the earth," answered the boys.

"And Twelve Toes and Tricky Trico and Blena Moena have all gone together to work their wicked magic so that you Twins will have to stop. You'll forget all about your journey to the Kingdom of the Korknotts. But Kippity-Flap, a little fairy friend of mine, happens to be here now, and I'll have him speak to you after you have seen the most interesting things. Perhaps the magic will have worn off then enough to let you choose. I'll wait for you on the Hawthorne tree across the valley. There is only one more valley after this, you know, until you reach the end of your journey."

Away flew the boys, and at that moment there was the blare of a brass band.

Nick had just been about to say, "Oh, come on, Nancy. We'll fool the boys, and show him that those three old sorcerers can't boss us any more with their old magic!" when the music started.

Instead he said, in spite of himself, "Oh, look! There are the big tents right ahead of us. Let's go in."

And Nancy, who also had resolved in her own little heart to do just what Nick had made up his mind to do and go straight ahead through the valley on the Fairy Queen's errand, said delightedly, "Oh, yes, come on. We must see this lovely circus! I wonder if they still have Tag Tiger, and Mr. and Mrs. Lion and Kicky Kangaroo and his mother, and Gyp the Giraffe, and all the others who ran away one time!"

By that time they were inside the gate. The man had let them in for nothing.

Wasn't old Twelve Toes a rascal! It was all his doing, you know.

CALLS DAWES' SAVING "PURE BUNK"

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Sharp democratic attacks were made in the house yesterday on the report made by Director Dawes of the budget bureau, transmitted to the appropriations committee by President Harding, setting forth reductions in government expenditures.

Representative Byrnes, Tennessee ranking democrat of the committee, who had asked for specific information in a resolution, charged that careful analysis of the report showed that the figures were "plainly deceptive," and that they had been "manipulated in an effort to mislead the public into the belief that some economy has been effected by the administration."

Representative Byrnes, democrat, South Carolina, declared that if the president had opportunity to examine "the itemized statement of alleged savings constituting the total of $186,000,000 he would discover that it is pure bunk."

Defending the report, Representative Mondell, Wyoming, the republican leader, asserting that Mr. Byrnes was "quibbling," and that "some of the economies had resulted quite as much from the vigilance of congress as from the activities of the budget bureau director."

Chairman Madden of the appropriations committee said that while Mr. Byrnes had mentioned deficiency estimates of $147,000,000, only $12,000,000 of this total could be attributed to the Harding administration.

Mr. Byrnes informed the house that Director Dawes had claimed a saving of $25,000 on "the salaries of congressmen," and then asked if they could say where.

"Here's an illustration of what Gen. Dawes saved the taxpayers," the South Carolina member shouted. "He claims a saving of $7500 authorized to be paid the widow of Senator Proctor, who died in 1908. Mrs. Proctor declined to accept it. She died some years ago. There is no one to whom it could be paid—and yet he saved it."

Mr. Byrnes said if the president believes the budget bureau, "he should, in justice to the taxpayers, urge congress to declare a dividend."

"After a delay of three months," continued Mr. Byrnes, "the director of the budget confesses that the sum named represents reductions, some of which are real savings, and some of which cannot be considered as savings. He says that a part of these reductions are simply postponed expenditures."

Whatever he may mean by this juggling of words, he plainly admits the charge that the original statement of the president was not based on facts."

"The report shows," Mr. Byrnes added, "that the president has increased the expenditures of his own office over what they were in 1921."

DECISION AGAINST SON OF CROKER

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 9.—The supreme court of Florida yesterday affirmed the decision of the circuit court for Palm Beach county in which the late Richard Croker sr., was declared to be competent to handle his affairs. The case involved a suit brought by Edward Croker, a son, seeking to annul the action of the father in turning his property over to his wife.

DAVISON LAID AT REST

Simple Ceremony Marks
Funeral of Noted Banker
and Red Cross War Leader

LOCUST VALLEY, N. Y., May 9.—Men and women of international prominence in the world of finance and society bowed with plain villagers in a common grief today at the bier of Henry P. Davison, financier, philanthropist and head of the American Red Cross during the world war, who died Saturday.

The little ivy-covered chapel of St. John's of Lexington, nestled among the flowering hills of the picturesque Long Island village, was crowded beyond all capacity. Many hundreds unable to gain admittance, stood silently outside.

Last Wishes Fulfilled
The last wishes of Mr. Davison were fulfilled. Members of his family, although dressed in black, did not wear deep mourning. The service itself was as unostentatious as possible. The eulogy was omitted. The church service followed private services at the home and the scene at the graveside was reserved for only those nearest and dearest.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Charles W. Hinton, assisted by the Rev. Endicott Peabody, headmaster of Groton school. A mixed quartet from St. Bartholomew's in New York sang Mr. Davison's favorite hymns, "Abide With Me" and "O Word, Christian Soldiers." The active pallbearers were members of Mr. Davison's office staff at J. P. Morgan and Co.

Red Cross Pays Tribute
The Red Cross, which Mr. Davison served so ably with a world in turmoil, played an important role in the final tribute to him.

In the little church, banked with flowers, a green laurel wreath bearing the Red Cross symbol, occupied a place of honor. The flag of the United States and the Red Cross. Outside the chapel stood a group of nurses who during the war had cared for Mr. Davison. Ten trucks carried the floral tributes to the church. The flowers so filled the chapel that ordinarily able to accommodate 250. It could seat only 150.

Morgan and Steele Lead
J. P. Morgan and Charles Steele, partners of Mr. Davison, led the procession into the chapel. Mrs. Davison did not attend the public service, but remained in the rectory nearby.

Assembled for the service were all the Morgan partners, now in his 100th year, and his sons, Otto H. Kahn, August Belmont, former ambassador John W. Davis, Felix Warburg and a host of others.

C.M.A.C. SETS DATE FOR ANNUAL COMMUNION

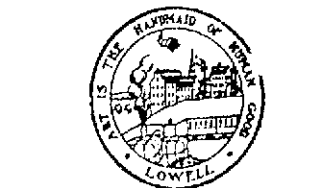

The date for the annual communion of the members of the C.M.A.C. has been set for Sunday, June 4, and the following committee has been appointed to make arrangements for the event: Henry Conant, Joseph Smart, Louis, Leon Lamoureux and Leonidas Despresboux.

According to present arrangements the members will gather at their hall in Pawtucket street at 6.30 o'clock and after forming lines will march to St. Jean Baptiste church, where they will attend the 7 o'clock mass, which will be celebrated by the chaplain of the society, Rev. L. G. Bachand, O.M.I. A sermon appropriate to the occasion will be delivered and a special musical program will be given.

At the close of the service the members will repair to their quarters, where breakfast will be served. There will be post-prandial exercises presided over by President J. A. N. Chretien and notable speakers will address the gathering.

President Chretien announced today that the date for the special meeting of the society to discuss the advisability of purchasing a site for the erection of a new home for the society has been set on Monday evening, May 22, the meeting to be called to order at 7.30 o'clock. All members of the association will be notified by postal cards and will be requested to attend the meeting, as the matter is a very important one. It is said that the membership is divided into two factions, one portion being in favor of purchasing a site and erecting a new home, while the others believe the raising of the present building one story would serve the purpose for several years to come. It is believed that definite action will be taken at the special meeting.

CARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned, wish to express our sincere thanks and heartfelt gratitude to those who in our sorrow served by their acts of kindness, expressions of sympathy and offerings of floral tributes and personal letters, to temper the pang of our grief on the death of a beloved husband and father, Edward A. Kemp. We wish to thank the staff and we could ever hold them in loving memory. MRS. MARGARET KEMP and Family.

NOTICE To the Public:

The Board of Health has received the following petition:
A petition has been presented to the Board of Health by Rev. NASHUA MEN ARRAIGNED IN DISTRICT COURT

By an order of Judge Thomas J. Enright, police are holding until tomorrow, two men, nephew and uncle, who appeared in court this morning charged with unlawfully riding on a Boston & Maine freight car. The men gave the names of Edgar W. Graham, aged 24, and Bert W. Congdon, aged 17, said they were from Nashua, N. H., and pleaded guilty to the charges preferred against them. Each was held in $300 until tomorrow. In the meantime the police will attempt to find out a little something more about them.

The men were arrested last night at 8.30 o'clock by Special Officers Edward G. Simonds of the Boston & Maine railroad police. He found the pair riding in a coal car. When a train from Nashua stopped near the bridge on Lundberg street Simonds, together with Special Officer Sandborn, started an inspection of the train. According to Officer Simonds the men made no attempt to get away when told they were under arrest.

For the past several weeks many freight cars have been broken into and freight stolen. For this reason railroad police have been keeping close watch along the line, especially in this locality where trains are apt to stop or slow down.

When the men appeared before Judge Enright this morning Congdon admitted that a case in superior court was pending against him. He said that he was tried last Thursday in Nashua on a breaking and entering charge and that final disposition had not yet been made of the case. He claimed that Graham was his uncle, and Graham in turn substantiated the fact. He further stated that he was on his way to Jamaica Plain to see his mother who resided there. He gave the name of a well known Nashua attorney whom he said was interested in his superior court case.

The court ordered the police to get in touch with the attorney. This was done and the facts as told by Congdon were admitted, by the attorney, to be true.

Both men had some money in their possession, although not much, and were asked the reason for stealing a ride on a freight train. They gave no satisfactory answer to this question.

Graham told the court that he had never been arrested in his life and that he was with his nephew just for company's sake. During the conversation with the Nashua attorney the fact was brought out that a man named Graham had been committed to the Concord insane hospital for observation last Thursday.

When interrogated on this point Graham said that his brother, William, had been sent to the insane hospital. The court desired to find out a little more about the pair and ordered them held.

DEATHS

LECTURE RECITAL AT MOREY SCHOOL

At the Morey school this afternoon a particularly interesting recital of the Parent-Teacher association was held, featured by a lecture-recital. The "Poetry of the Poets," by Mrs. Elsie Powers Corcoran. Two children numbers were introduced in the course of the recital, "A Garden Party," a fantasy in which the raindrops and the sunbeams are entertained by the flowers, and "A Morning in My Garden." The program had an unique appeal to lovers of nature, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

WANT PART OF PARK FOR FIVE PERISH IN FIRE BURYING GROUND

The board of health has received a petition from Rev. Alexander Ogonowski, pastor of the Holy Trinity church, seeking to use a portion of Spalding park as a burying ground for Polish people and has set a hearing on the matter for next Monday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock.
The petition first was read in the city council and referred to the board of health and public service board.
The board, at a meeting late yesterday, voted to observe national hospital day next Friday, May 12, by cordially inviting the general public to visit the isolation hospital, which will be thrown open for inspection the entire day.

PRINCE-COTTER CO. HAS ANNIVERSARY
The Prince-Cotter company, 104 Merrimack street, is observing its second anniversary this week, and the sale being conducted by them in conjunction with the event is meeting with popular favor. Ever since the company was formed, back in 1920, it has not only maintained, but has also endeavored to improve upon the high standard and quality of jewelry, diamonds and artistic wares established by its predecessor, Myhard F. Wood, who for years was in the jewelry business. In May, 1920, the store was taken over by Mrs. C. Edward Cotter and Mr. Arthur D. Prince, of the G. C. Prince & Company, and the firm of Prince-Cotter was formed with Mrs. Cotter, president and general manager, and Mr. Prince, treasurer. Since that time this live and energetic firm has gone forward with leaps and bounds and ranks among the first class jewelry stores in our city. They have also built up such a watch department and watch and clock repairing department that it is frequently called and has adopted the slogan, "The Store That Times the City."

GIRL STOLE 200 GOWNS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Harriet Crothers, 21 year old, confessed graduate of a "school of shoplifters" in Chicago, sat complacently in a cell today while half a dozen worried department store managers considered her remarks in the light of her acts.
Miss Crothers, according to her story as recounted by the police, picked her trade here one week and accumulated $20,000 worth of finery, including 200 gowns of which she says 79 came from one store. She added that she could have "backed a truck up to any store in town, robbed it, and gotten away without detection."
The young woman said a "mob of shoplifters" was enroute to San Francisco to "clean up" and declared she was caught only because she forgot some of the rules.

SELECTMEN FAVOR POLICE CHIEF'S PLAN

Acting Superintendent of Police W. C. MacBryne today received another favorable reply to his request that certain towns surrounding Lowell appoint the members of the Lowell marshal squad and police chauffeurs as special officers. The reply came from the chairman of the Chelmsford selectmen who telephoned that his board was in favor of the plan and asked for a list of men the Lowell chief had in mind. This makes four favorable replies to date as word has been received from Dracut, Billerica and Tyngsboro.

SIDEWALKS READY FOR SATURDAY

If weather continues favorable, this week, the new granite sidewalks being laid on the East Merrimack street side of the auditorium will be ready for use on Saturday, on the occasion of the visit here of mayor and American Legion delegates from cities and towns of Middlesex county.
City Engineer Stephen Kearney said today that every effort would be made to have the walks finished at that time and gave assurance that they would be provided that the weather continued fair.
